Look At Yesterday A Look At Y

Jefferson City has had a high school in the community since the 1800's. Over one hundred years of quality education have been housed in four buildings.

During this bicentennial year, the editors thought it would be appropriate to reflect the history of education in Jefferson City.

The endsheets of this book were designed by Karl Lutz to depict the various buildings in which high school classes have been held.

A look at yesterday makes us more aware of the importance of today in preparation for tomorrow.

With this in mind, the theme of the 1976 Marcullus is "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," a reflection of yesterday, a report of today, and a challenge for tomorrow.

Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow

Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow

Bicentennial Minutes, Happy Birthday USA, and 200 Years Ago Today, are television programs designed to encourage us to think about our past. In this book, too, we have reminded readers of Jefferson City high school's past. Through the activities reported in this book, we are made aware of the traditional things at Jefferson City—Homecoming, Capitol Caroling, Thanksgiving Project, Jayettes, Prom, School Spirit—all things that make our high school years worthwhile.

These traditions carry us through the years and make today an integral part of the history of Jefferson City High School. As we look back, it is only natural to feel that "we've come a long way."

January, 1976, will be recorded as an important date in the history of the school because of the opening of the new vocational building—another advancement for the education in the Jefferson City schools. The school, Nichols Career Center, was named for Joe Nichols, Jr., superintendent of schools, who has been recognized for his contributions and leadership to education for the past 30 years.

How would you like to have 148 teenagers in your family? For Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin their students are their family. This Dynamic Duo has been teaching together for quite some time. Mrs. Martin uses heiroglyphics and gory details to impress history upon the minds of her students. Instead of writing on the blackboard, she has different historic events pictured on the carpet so you can walk through history. Mrs. Martin adds so much enthusiasm and imagination to her classes. She has also been a devoted Junior class sponsor for the last few years. If there is ever anything to be done Mrs. Martin is always there to help.

Mr. Martin tries to impress the x's and y's of algebra on the minds of his Freshman students. "Being a Freshman wouldn't have been the same without Mr. Martin as a teacher." The many tricks and jokes that he tells to his students adds much enthusiasm to his class. He has a way of making you feel close to him. "I will have to admit, though, that some of the hilarious things he did in class would surprise you."

The dedication of this yearbook could not have gone to two more deserving people. Through their enthusiasm to the school and the many efforts they have shown the 1976 Marcullus is dedicated to "The Dynamic Duo," Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin.

1976 Marcullus Dedicated To

Mrs. Martin made history come alive. She let you use your imagination to think about what you were learning. You got caught up in her vivaciousness and excitement. She's really beautiful!

Linda Mansur

I realize that Mr. Martin is known for his rather questionable behavior in the classroom, but in all seriousness I must say that Mr. Martin is directly responsible for making me everything I am today — a filthy, degenerate, socially unacceptable, weird kid. Thanks for all your help in reaching my goals, I appreciate it.

Mark Roberts

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin

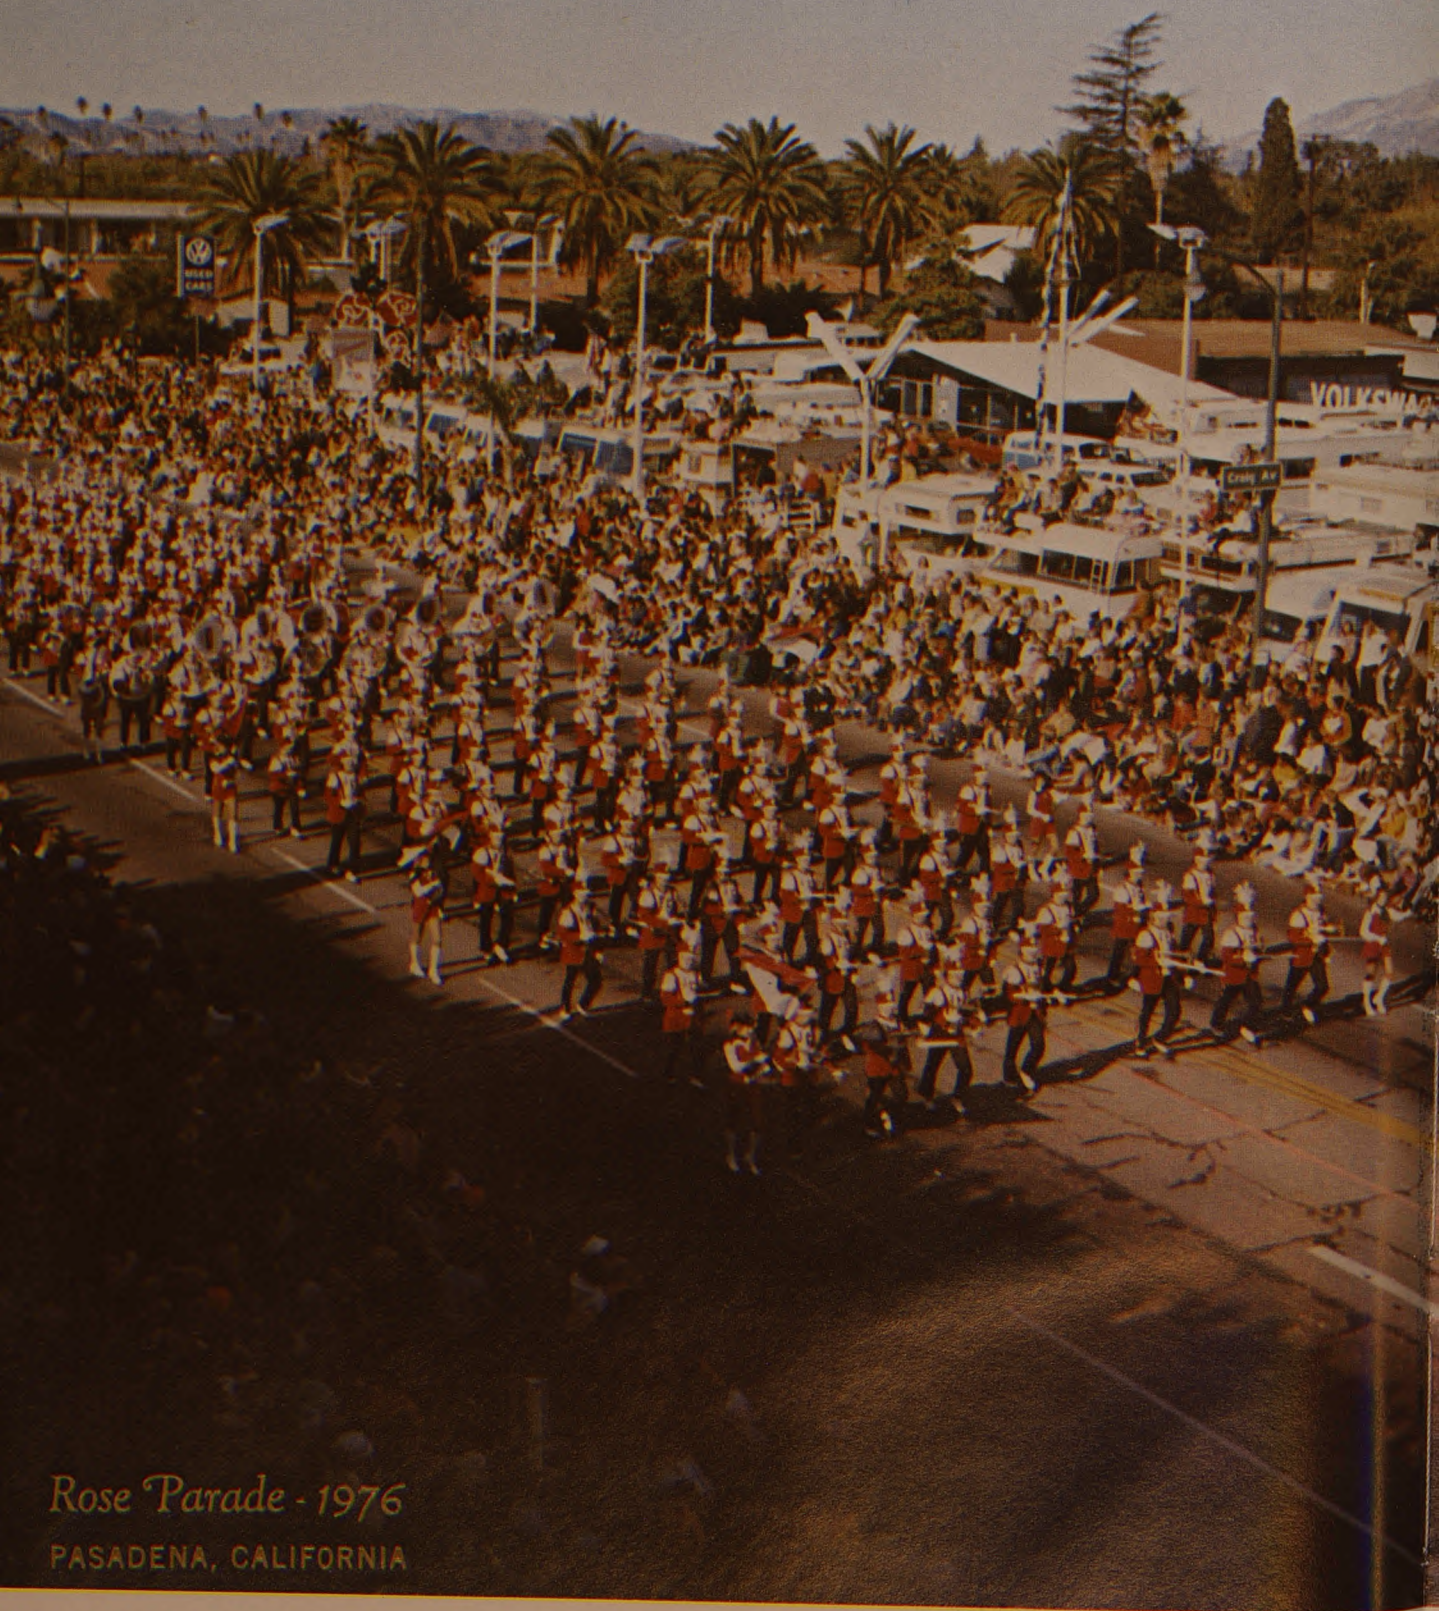

I remember how much I enjoyed Mr. Martin's algebra class. It was because he taught his class in a person to person situation rather than in a non-feeling teacher to student relationship, like most of the classes I have had during school. So I think anyone who has had the pleasure of having Mr. Martin as a teacher has benefitted greatly. So here's to the "Dirty Old Man," and long may your pilot light burn!

Lyndal Shirley

Mrs. Martin's teaching techniques were so different that she really made Missouri come to life!

Band Represents Missouri in Rose Bowl Parade

Rose Parade - 1976
PASADENA, CALIFORNIA

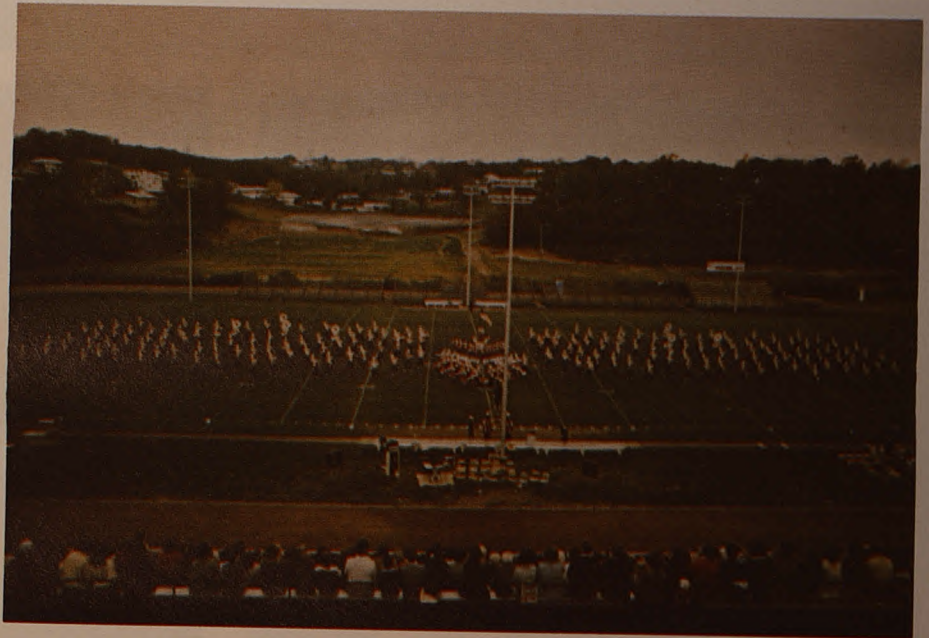

The Jay Band started its trip to march in the Rose Bowl Parade on Christmas day with television and radio coverage. On their way, they stopped in Arizona, Las Vegas, and were ready to perform New Year's Day in Pasadena, California. The trip featured lots of work and not much sleep, but as band members put it:

SENIOR KELLY KEEFE The band trip was a unique experience; I'm glad that it happened during my senior year. It was fun marching at Disneyland's "America On Parade" and playing in such a carnival surrounding. Riding home on the bus was hectic-everyone wanted to get back to Jefferson City.

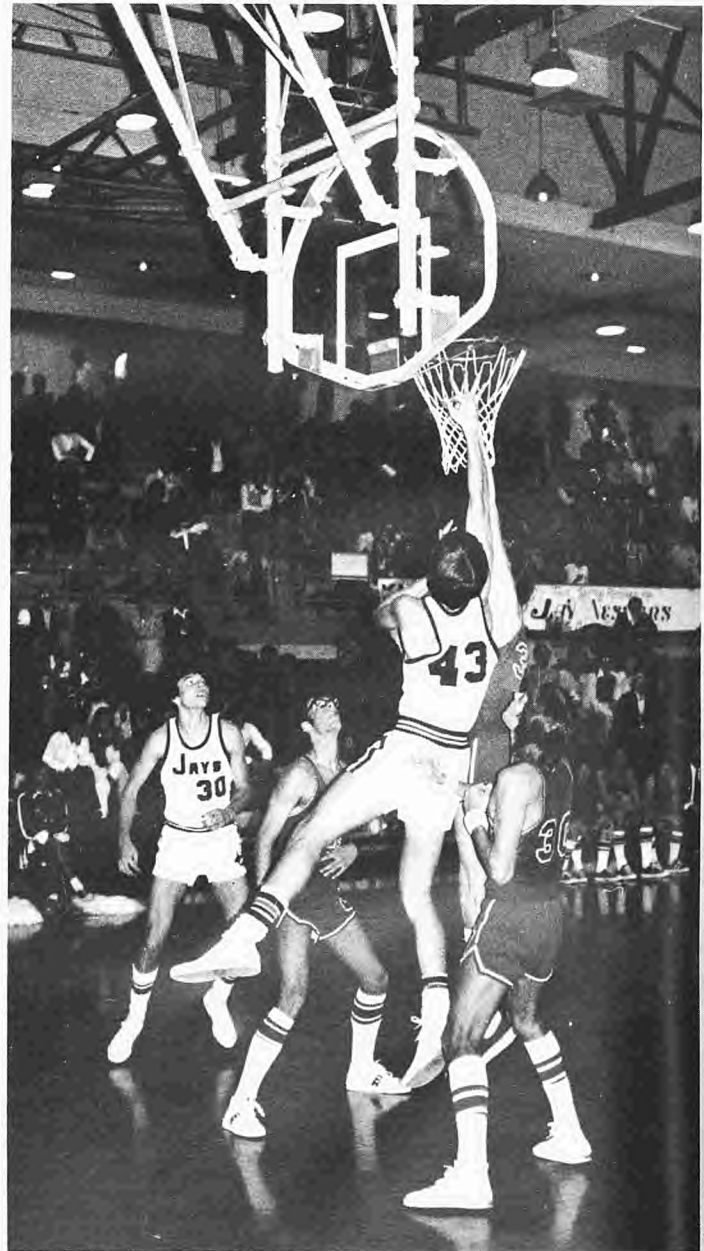

JUNIOR GWEN HOLT The trip was a lot of fun and I really enjoyed it. It was a break from home, but I was glad to get back!

SOPHOMORE TERRI BEAN I felt so proud to be a part of the band!

JAY QUARTET perform at the "Octoberfest" held downtown.
BAND PERFORMANCE was given at the stadium to show off their new uniforms.

Activities and Sports Activities

and Sports Activities and Sports

Being involved in the different aspects of student life is essential for a successful school year. Whether it is through participation in sports (varsity or intramural teams) or attendance at school activities (Homecoming, productions, or dances), there is something at JC for everyone.

The opportunity is here. It is up to us as individuals to take advantage—to get involved—and to make the most of our high school years.

"Jays Spark Spirit of '76" 52-14

Homecoming was officially started on Thursday with a bonfire near Simonsen. The box crew piled up their collection of cartons in a huge mound and placed a replica of a pirate on top. As the boxes caught fire and burned, the pep band and pom pon girls entertained the crowd while the cheerleaders led the yells.

In spite of the threat of rain, the parade went on as scheduled and went through the uptown area and around the capitol, finally ending up back at Freshman High School.

That night, the band and Jayettes performed at half-time to the tunes of "Yankee Doodle Dandy," "Look Up, America," and "You're A Grand Old Flag." The band formed a "US" with the Freshman Band in the form of a shield, while the Jayettes formed the shape of the United States around them. At the end of the Homecoming game, Jays led 52 - 14. The Homecoming Dance was held with music by Max's Creek.

HOBO Kevin Zalken plays his part during the parade.

WORKING on the Senior float is David Hoskins. "WOW!" says Paul Wilson, "that was SOME parade!"

COURT presides over the football game.

COLOR GUARD leads the Homeing parade.

BONFIRE burns as pom pon girls perform with pep band.

UNITED STATES was outlined by Jayettes and band.

Students Work Toward Homecoming

Float making, morning rehearsals, and band practices, all created the tension and expectation of the student body as the days drew nearer to Homecoming Day. Glue fights and red tissue-stained fingers were all part of the frantic pace set to finish the floats for the parade. Jayettes and band members practiced every week in preparation for the half-time show. At school, classes competed in a spirit chain to show which class had the most spirit; the Seniors were declared the winners.

"Jays Spark Spirit of '76" was off to a big start as box crews buzzed Mac's and other businesses for boxes and cartons for the bonfire to get everyone "fired up" for Homecoming!

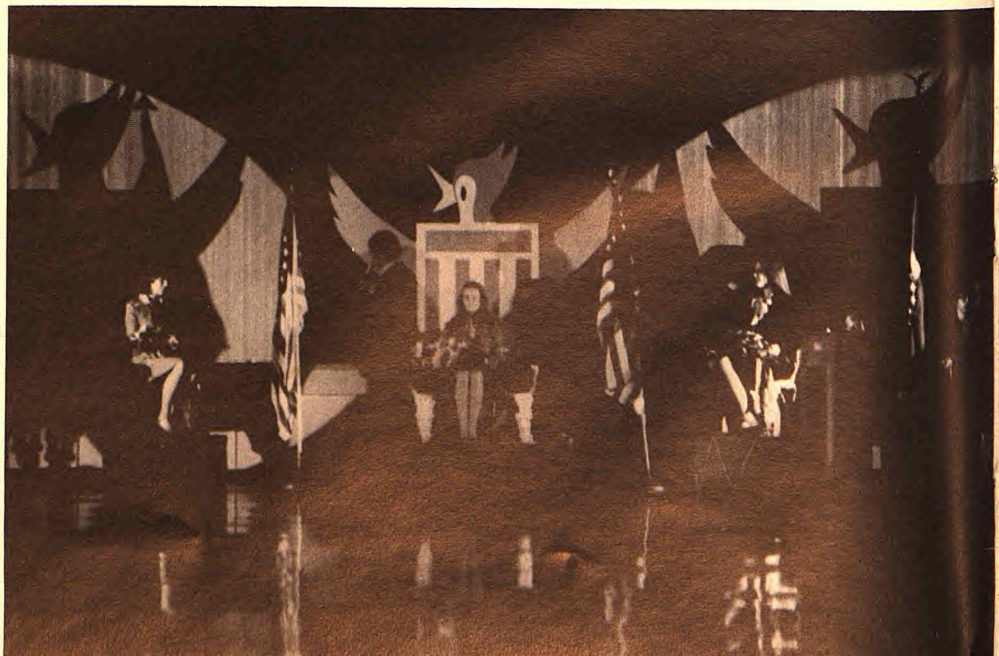

SENIOR GIRLS sing their song, which was dedicated to the Jays, at the bonfire.

QUEEN Mandy Morris is escorted to her throne by Gary Oberkrom.

FLOAT-MAKING was a hectic time for everyone.

HOMECOMING ASSEMBLY presented Queen Mandy Morris and her court.

JAY SPIRIT just couldn't be kept off the streets. "GOD BLESS AMERICA" was sung by Sylvia Morris at the Homecoming assembly. JAYETTES practice on the field for the half-time show. THINKING ABOUT her last Homecoming, Senior Mary Fine sings at the bonfire.

“Don’t Rain On My Parade!”

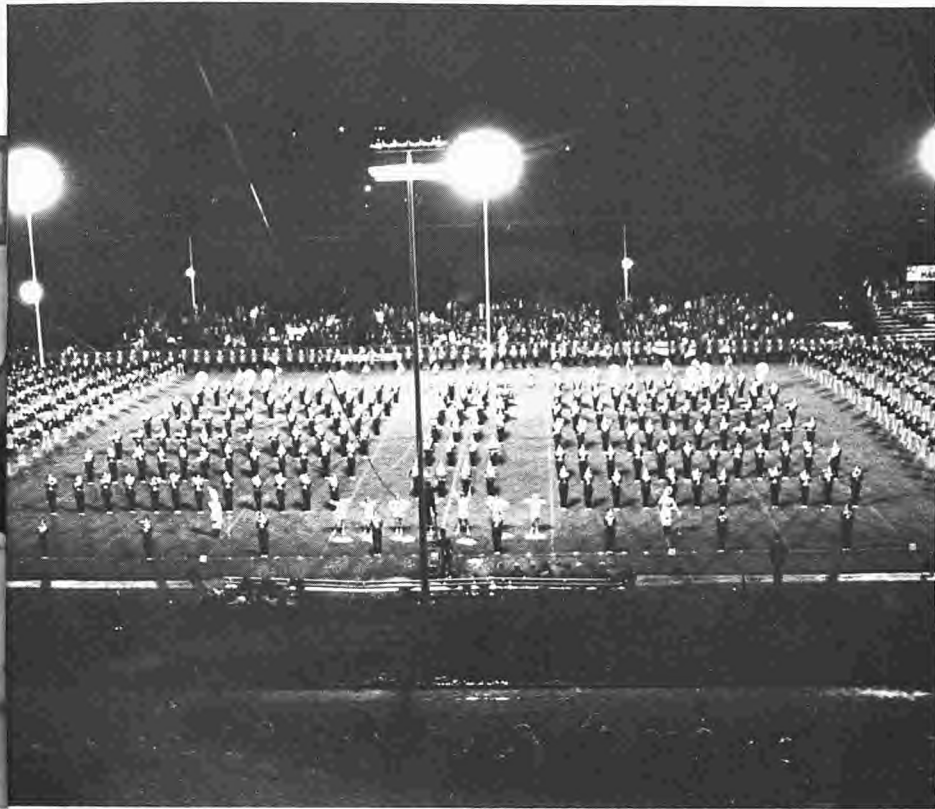

As the school was dismissed after the Homecoming Assembly, a lot of moans could be heard as kids looked outside and saw how hard the rain was coming down. All through that morning it didn’t seem to stop and people were talking about calling off the parade. But right before the parade was to start, the rain finally quit and the sun came out.

The parade was started a little early to take advantage of the weather and it finished with the sun still shining. Prizes went to the Senior Class for best class float and the JC Players float for best club float. The theme of the parade was the Spirit of '76 and floats displayed colorful red, white, and blue emblems, not to mention school colors.

After the parade, the rain started up slightly, but soon quit in time to finish the day with the game and half-time show.

BEST CLASS FLOAT was the Senior float, “Give Me Victory.”
BEST CLUB FLOAT was the JC Players float, “Jays Heard ‘Round the World’.”
HOMECOMING PARADE wound around the uptown area and by the capitol.

HALF-TIME SHOW combined the Jayettes with the Senior High and Freshman bands.

OFFICERS and Cheerleaders lead the Jayettes in the Homecoming parade.

Homecoming was the greatest day of my Senior year, because that day I truly felt like a Senior!

Denise Thrash

Being on Homecoming Court just made my Senior year! I could hardly believe it was really happening to me.

Janelle Clark

Homecoming went by too fast. It all seemed like a dream come true. I never felt closer to the student body.

Mandy Morris

JC Elects Mandy as Queen

The Homecoming Queen and Court were selected from eight girls, nominated by the football squad. The student body voted for five finalists and then chose one as Queen. Queen Mandy Morris and her attendants — Denise Thrash, Lisa Steppelman, Leigh Anne Walz, and Janelle Clark — were presented at the Homecoming Assembly, then rode in the parade.

The Queen and Court were also honored at the football game and at the dance afterwards.

Homecoming was one of the greatest things that ever happened to me; it was an unforgettable experience!

Lisa Steppelman

I couldn't believe that I was one of the five chosen until I walked out in the auditorium that morning. It made my Senior year really special.

Child Remembers, “I Never Saw Another Butterfly”

From 1942 to 1954, over 15,000 Jewish children passed through Terezin, a former military garrison set up as a ghetto. It soon became a station — a stopping-off place — for hundreds of thousands on their way to the gas chambers. But, one child, Raja Englanderova, survived Terezin. I Never Saw Another Butterfly is an imaginative creation of her story, taken from documentary material, poems, diaries, drawings, and letters of the children who really lived through the horrors of Terezin.

THE CANDLES LIT, Raja's family observes the Sabbath.

“SEE THE BUTTERFLIES . . . I'm giving them to you.”

“THESE TICKETS. What do they mean? Where will they take us?” asked the children before they left for Terezin.

MEMORIES bring thoughts of bitter times for Raja.

Caroling Theme "The Twelve Days of Christmas"

This year's Capitol Caroling decorations were made to correspond with the theme, "The Twelve Days of Christmas," and plaques were arranged to signify each day. The Chorale performed an arrangement of the song which featured three quartets.

The choir sang two large works, "Cantata No. 172" by Bach and "Gloria" by Broeckner. Other songs were "Joy to the World," "The Glory of the Father," "Sing We Noel," and a special arrangement of "Jingle Bells." The Freshman choir performed "In Natali Domini" and "Break Forth, Oh Beauteous Heavenly Light."

The choir concluded the 38th annual Capitol Caroling with "O Holy Night," which has been sung every year since the beginning of Capitol Caroling.

ASSEMBLY honors the Winter Sports queen and court. ESCORTED by Bret Derrick is Mary Fine. ATTENDANT Sandy Braun is presented at the basketball game. WINTER SPORTS Queen Karyl Cooper and her attendants Susan Bodamer, Mary Fine, Sarah Hearne, and Sandy Braun.

Court Honored At Assembly And Game

Karyl Cooper was crowned Winter Sports Queen at the assembly on February 13. She was escorted by senior wrestler John Whittler and senior basketball player Gary Gonder. Karyl's court, Sandy Braun, Susan Bodamer, Mary Fine, and Sarah Hearne, were each escorted by a member of the basketball and wrestling squad. Necklaces were given by last year's queen and court. "I Can't Help Falling in Love" was sung by Buddy Gillespie.

The Winter Sports court was again presented February 14 at the home basketball game against Quincy Notre Dame. A dance was held following the game with music by Beauhunc.

QUEEN Karyl Cooper is announced at the Winter Sports assembly.

TALKING with Ron Burkett is attendant Sarah Hearne.

WALKING down the gymnasium is attendant Susan Bodamer.

Karyl Cooper Chosen Sweetheart Queen

Members of the wrestling and basketball squad nominated ten girls as candidates for the 1976 Winter Sports queen and court. Elections were held by the student body to narrow the nominees to five. Another election chose Queen Karyl Cooper with attendants Susan Bodamer, Sandy Braun, Mary Fine, and Sarah Hearne. Tawna Jenkins, 1975 Winter Sports Queen, hosted a tea in honor of this year's queen and court.

Besides being a privilege, Sweetheart was exciting and loads of fun!

Sandy Braun

Being on Sweetheart Court was a big honor and a lot of fun. It was the biggest highlight of my senior year.

Mary Fine

It all went by so fast that I just couldn't believe it was happening to me. I will never forget that special day when I really felt like a senior!

Susan Bodamer

It's something you always think about being, but you really don't ever expect it to come true. It was one of the most exciting days of my life; I'll always, always cherish the memories.

Karyl Cooper

I was so thrilled to be on court! It was an honor I'll never forget.

Sarah Hearne

76 Trombones Lead Operetta

The Music Man is the story of the little town of River City, Iowa, which is visited by a crafty traveling salesman, Harold Hill, who tries to sell a boys' band using the new pool hall as a way to incite the townspeople. His only real problem is the piano-teaching librarian, Marian Paroo, who tries to expose him to Mayor Shinn and the school board.

By using his charm, Professor Harold Hill wins the favor of the Mayor's wife, Eulalie Mackecknie Shinn, and brings the school board together as a barbershop quartet. When the band instruments arrive on the Wells Fargo Wagon, Marian decides against exposing Harold and falls in love with him.

But another traveling salesman, Charlie Cowell, brings proof of Hill's deception and the townspeople chase him and bring him before the city officials. At the last moment, young Tommy Djilas brings the boys' band together and the townspeople drop their charges against Professor Harold Hill.

DEFENDING the Professor, Marian appeals to the townspeople.

MAYOR'S WIFE exclaims over her husband's "phraseology."
QUARTET sings up and down the street.
BAND INSTRUMENTS arrive on the Wells Fargo Wagon.
"THERE AIN'T NO BAND!" reveals Charlie Cowell.
"HE'S NOT HERE!" yells Marcellus.

Cast Brings Music Man Man To Life

With afternoon and evening rehearsals, the cast and chorus of Music Man really got "caught up" in their parts. The imaginary River City, Iowa, came alive as townspeople were excited by traveling salesmen and ecstatic over a small boys' band. The cast blended the personalities of the town with the townspeople to make everyone a close-knit family both on and off the stage.

AMERICAN GOTHIC greeting for Professor Harold Hill.

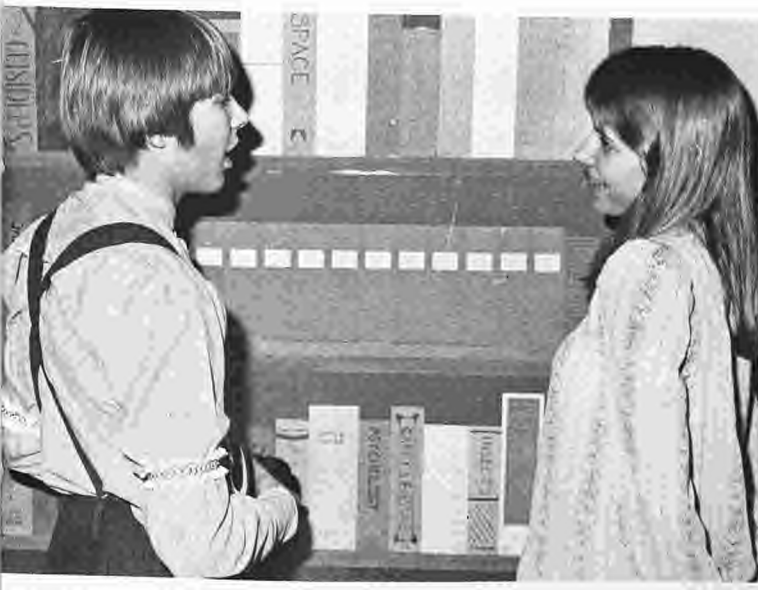

"HELLO, Winthrop," greets Amaryllis.

DANCE PRACTICE for the sociable brings the town ladies and school board together.

"GET these premises off my daughter," yells Mayor Shinn.

"A BOYS' BAND!" exclaims Marcellus.
 "ALL ABOARD! Next stop, River City."
 TALKING behind the bookcases, Tommy and Zaneeta meet at the library.
 "SIGN HERE and give me his measurements for his uniform," says Harold.

BUILDING River City, Iowa, took a lot of work.
SOUND CREW applaude the finale of the operetta.
ROPE CREW consisted of Tom White, Chris Myers , David Coon, and Steve Loethan.
POSING with Charlie Cowell is Mrs. Jones.

Crew Directs Backstage Production

There are some people who are never seen on stage, but without them the operetta would never have taken place. They consist of the rope crew, stage crew, and orchestra. Because of these people, the operetta went smoothly from scene to scene as the backgrounds were changed behind the curtains. A very special group of people are the teachers who gave their time to make this year's operetta a truly professional one with choreography, artwork, and music.

RELAXING before the performance, Mr. Burkel watches the cast.

ORCHESTRA performs the overture.

FINAL TALK before the show begins, Mr. Burkel gives a pep talk.

HIDDEN FEELINGS come through as Harriet (Julie Lubker) and her alter ego (Nanci Carroll) talk to Margaret (Joni Teaford) and her counterpart Maggie (Mary Donnelly). PERSUASION BY the emperor (Maynard Parker) and the emperor's wife (Stacia Steppelman) causes Dr. Faustus (Ron Burkett) to ponder. SPIRIT CONJURER, Dr. Faustus (Ron Burkett) invokes Mephistopheles. GIVING INSTRUCTIONS, Horace (Margaret Hawes) instructs Don (Richard Hall).

Thespians Direct Evening Of Drama

Thespians directed four plays at Evening of Drama. Two comedies, one melodrama, and a dramatic production completed the entertaining performances.

Dr. Faustus, an intense drama, was the featured play. A man sells his soul to the devil and encounters good and evil. Mr. Tim Hollis was the director.

Overtones was directed by Sandy Braun and Mary Fine. It is a comedy satire of two women meeting, and their alter egos expressing their true responses.

Directors for Dress Reversal, a comedy, were Kathy Bauer and Jan White. It consisted of an all-male cast, including two boys dressed like women. The boys presented a dress rehearsal of a murder-mystery play.

The melodrama, True-Blue and Trusted, was directed by Corey White and Ken Witherbee. The typical scene appears as the villain is defeated by a hero, who happily marries the heroine.

DEFIANT LOOKS of Don (Richard Hall) and George (Paul Wilson) are directed toward Horace (Margaret Hawes).

BACKS TURNED away from them, Balderdash (Chris Leslie) prepares to kiss Lily Lackomoney (Christie Righthouse).

Family Finds

"The Egg and I"

The heartwarming comedy of the MacDonald family comes into full perspective in "The Egg and I." The family buys a chicken farm and suffers a multitude of possible and impossible problems.

Getting up at 4 a.m. to carry tons of water to peeping chicks is just one of the obstacles for the city family. The MacDonald family gives up and packs, ready to leave, but they then realize just how much they love the farm. The "mighty egg" is finally conquered and endured in the end.

TALKING SERIOUSLY about chickens to Anne, Thad explains the chickens' feeding procedures.

Chorale to start off the evening.

Bicentennial Theme "Lest We Forget"

In keeping with the theme "Lest We Forget" the public school system combined elementary and secondary schools into a two-hour production of Missouri and its history held at the high school stadium. The program was divided into five parts, each presented on stage as well as on the field.

Starting with Colonial Days, the history of Missouri moved into Expansion, the Civil War, Missouri, and the Grand Finale which brought all groups together in patriotic songs ending with the full verses of the Star-Spangled Banner.

The production began with the overture, "Rondo and March" followed by the Chorale portraying a portion of "Ballad: For Americans" with Bret Derrick as soloist. Other selections included "Missouri Waltz," "Meet Me in St. Louis" and the score from "How the West Was Won."

SOLDIERS come home to their families as they return from the war.

DIRECTORS Mr. Gentsch and Mr. Burkel prepare for the performance.

GRAND FINALE salutes the American flag.

Awards Assembly Completes School Year

The awards assembly finished up the assemblies for the 1975-76 school year. At that time Susan Bodamer announced the Marcullus dedication and presented Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin corsages and presents.

Richard Hall installed Chris Leslie as the next year's Student Council president. The new year's officers were also sworn in. Chris Leslie presented Richard with the traditional gavel.

Micky DiCorpo made his last speech as AFS student for this school year and presented Richard Hall with his native flag.

PINNING the boutonniere on, Susan Bodamer gives flowers to Mr. and Mrs. Martin for the yearbook dedication.

CONGRATULATING the new president, Richard Hall resigns his post to Chris Leslie.

PRESENTING his native flag to Richard Hall, Mickey DiCorpo makes his farewell speech.

Scoring a perfect 15 points at the CMC championship meet the JC cross country team topped off a winning season. They went on to place second in the district meet and fourth in the state meet, where Bryce Allmon finished sixth. The harriers won all of their regular season meets except one, in which they placed second out of 18 teams. The Junior-Varsity and Freshman-Sophomore teams went undefeated, with the Freshmen-Sophomores scoring a perfect 15 points each time they ran.

Coach Larry York summed it all up by saying, "I think the program is growing and catching on as evidenced by so many boys coming out. We've had a great season this year and I hope we can carry on our fine winning tradition next year."

WINNING AGAIN, Bryce Allmon finishes a long race. CAUGHT IN A PACK, Dirk Allmon tries to break free. NEARING THE TOP of "Killer Hill" are Jack Baldwin and Dan Ragland.

Girls Volleyball Teams "Do It!"

This was the second season for the girl's volleyball team with Coach Ginger Smith. Before each game the girls gathered in a circle and "broke" with a cry of "DO IT"! This year's season record was quite an improvement over last year's. The 1975 team had a record of 9 wins and 1 loss to Sedalia, causing them to share the CMC Championship.

The first annual all-sports banquet was held December, 1975, for the girl's tennis and volleyball teams and the boy's cross country team. Most valuable player, Susan Toft, and most improved player, Shannon Curry, were recognized at the banquet.

Four Girls Go To Tennis State Regional Finals

After winning the district tournament, four JC players qualified to go to State Regionals: Sarah Dawson, Susan Dawson, Janet Watts, and Mary Ann Kimble.

This year's team won the CMC Conference Championship as did last year's team.

Sarah Dawson was named most valuable player. Mary Hyder was named most improved player.

The girls practiced at 4 o'clock each day at the tennis courts with coach, Miss Marcia Worrell.

"SOOPAH" Jays!

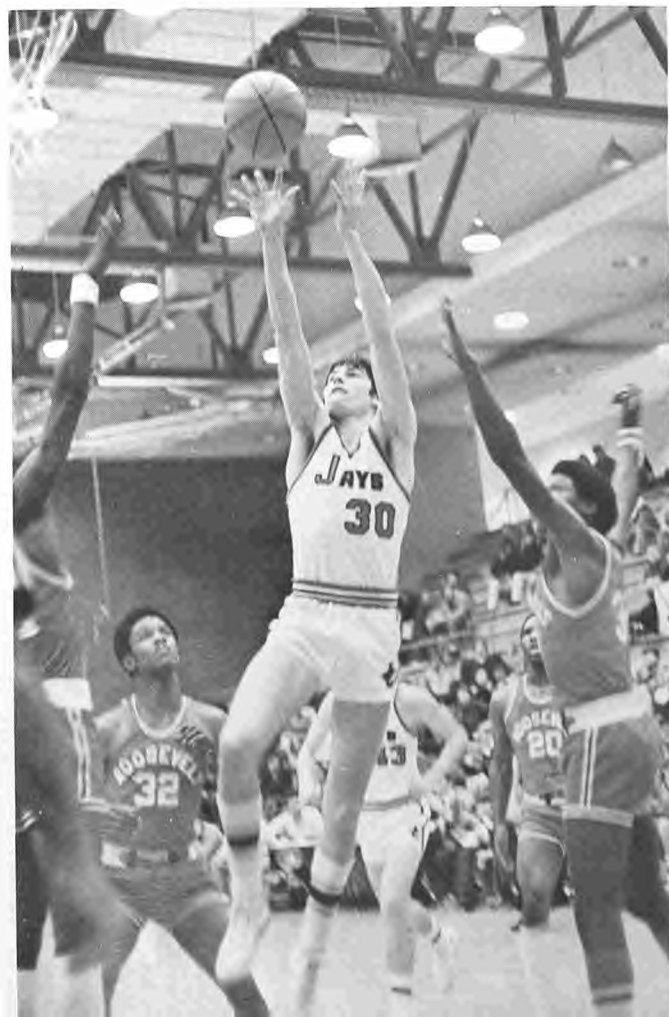

A few close games and a 53-49 victory over the Columbia Hickman Kewpies in the Rolla Tournament made this year's season an exciting one.

The team was sparked by many returning lettermen. Gary Gonder returned after seeing much varsity game play last year. Rick Prosser proved to be a strong scorer for the team, while Chris Mallory displayed to the opponents a lot of strong ability. Kenny Brooks came back showing much improvement and a lot of shooting ability. Brent Ward's jumping ability set great heights for the Jay Roundballers. Kirk Obermiller and Dan McDaniel provide an optimistic outlook for next year's season.

Jay's Show Ability

The team was sparked on to many cheering victories, while backed by the ever-faithful Jayettes and the Jay Athletic Supporters. Even though the center balcony section had to be roped off, the Supporters gathered in strong numbers behind the Jayettes. The Roundballers practiced many long hours to form a winning team. Each player worked hard to improve his particular talent. With all of this spirited backing, hard work, and talent, no wonder the basketball team had a victorious season.

Grapplers Work Hard Toward Goals

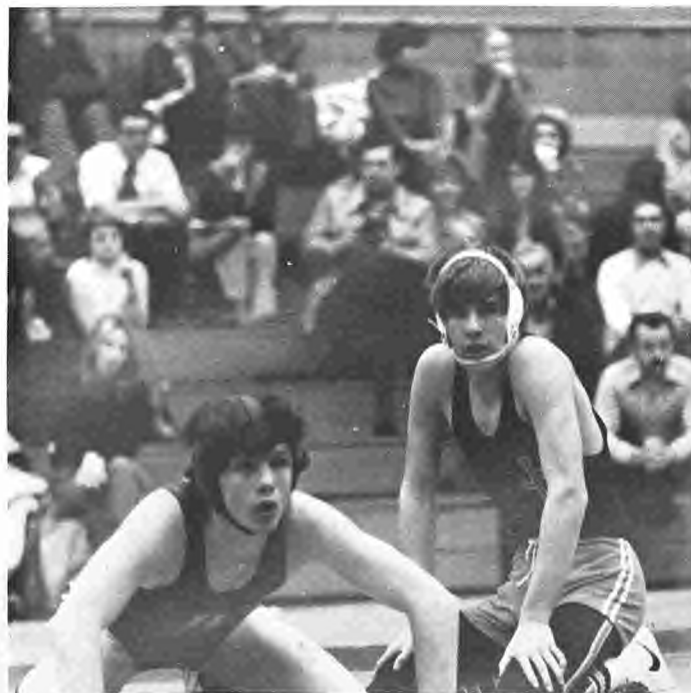

Coaching the Jay wrestling squad for the 75-76 season were Coach Ted Kozinski and Coach Steve Johnson. "We had a lot of inexperience, but the kids worked real hard," remarked Coach Johnson. "There is a good nucleus for next year, with many returning lettermen. Our weakest point is the 130-160 pound class."

Both coaches are optimistic about next year and think the squad will post a better record than this year's 5 wins — 6 loss record.

Wrestling Team Shows Improvement

The wrestling squad placed three members in the district tournament at Blue Springs this year. Jim Chappel and Roger Walker both won their weight classes and Don Whittler placed 4th in his weight class. Chappel and Walker also went on to win the regional in their weight classes.

The Junior Varsity team had a 6-3 record, which in Coach Johnson's opinion is an excellent season. "There were many talented young kids who were out for the first year. I think they'll do real well next year," commented Coach Johnson.

Track Records Fall

It was early in the season when it appeared that this year would be a year of Bryce Allmon; it was. The junior distance-runner shattered two school records, in the mile and two-mile, with clockings of 4:15.4 and 9:29.2, respectively. But the underclassmen didn't stop here. Brian Presberry, triple-jumper, surpassed the old mark held by Brian Johnson of 45'½", with a new mark of 45'5". With these returning lettermen, next year's track team should contain record-breaking depth.

Jays Host First Indoor Meet

The Jay Cindermen followed through with the tradition of change this year as they hosted their first indoor meets. Since there is no indoor track at JC, the meet was run in the halls here at school. The first meet was held against Mexico and the second meet was paced with Helias. It seems that the indoor meets will become as much a part of the track schedule as the Capital City Relays.

MOVING OUT are Jay hurdlers, Barry Bryson, Paul Whitehead, and Kirk Obermiller.

HANDING OFF in the mile relay, are David Cole and Bryce Allmon.

STRAINING TO THE FINISH is Dirk Allmon.

Girls' Track Team—Cinderwomen?

The girls' track team proved to be a successful asset to the world of sports at JC. Their record was one that any coach could be proud of. As the end of season rolled around, the thought of State Meet occupies everyone's mind. This year's team sent five girls to the State Meet. Kay James went in two events, shot put and softball throw. Susan Toft entered in the high jump, while Beth Myers competed in the mile run. Jann King ran in the 440-yard dash and Lori Hoffius ran in the 880-yard run. All of these girls qualified either first or second in District Track Meet.

Longknockers Prove Successful

This year's golf team was no exception to the tradition set by former teams. They continued to hold a good record throughout the season. After conquering the 1976 CMC title, they now have a total of 10 CMC crowns.

In the meet against Hannibal the Jays scored 145. This breaks the old record and is now the new low 4-man score.

Following the conference meet the team went to district. The Red & Black group stayed high in the standings and came home with a second place win.

The longknockers went to the State Meet over the last weekend in school.

Classes And Clubs Classes And

Clubs Classes And Clubs Classes

School is not just a place to study and learn. It's a training center for the years ahead. Clubs involve students in activities of all different areas. The new German and Political Science clubs have been added to enhance a student's perspective of what is taught in the new classes. New vocational classes help prepare students for the business world. A school doesn't stop at 3:00; it just begins.

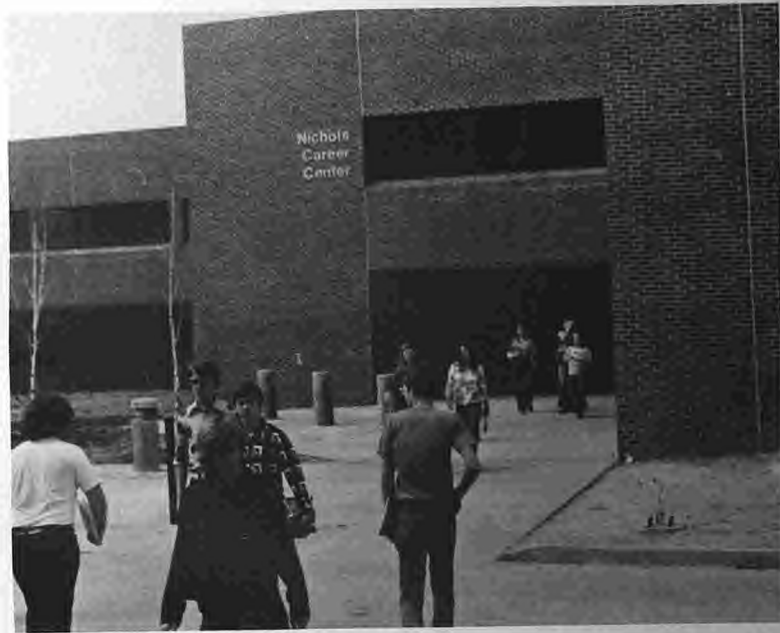

BOARD OF EDUCATION members are Mrs. Marcia Weaver, Mr. John Morris, Mrs. Helen Aldridge, Mrs. Jerry Giffen, Mr. Robert Dallmeyer, Jr., Mr. Ralph Popp, Dr. Robert King. QUIET is a rare commodity for Mr. Fleming. MORNING ANNOUNCEMENTS are read by Mr. Anthony.

Classes Begin In New Building

With the completion of the new Vocational-Technical Building coming during the school year, many classes began the year in the new building or moved shortly afterwards. Some of the classes in the new building are printing, shop classes and all math classes.

The new building is of modern design with two complete stories. An indoor garden and benches highlight the ground floor. Each room is furnished with the best of modern equipment and is fully carpeted, and air-conditioned.

Members of the School Board voted and gave the new building the name Nichols Career Center.

PAPER WORK swamps Mr. Adams.

STUDENTS begin to filter between the two buildings in between classes.

PLEASANTLY Mr. Reed gives out 7th hour study hall.

Art and Industrial Arts Inspire Creativeness

Along with the classroom masterpieces, the art department sponsored the Jay Spirit mugs and decorated for the Capital Caroling.

With their teachers' instructions the shop and metals classes learned productive trades and constructed useful furniture items as well.

These teachers deserve a lot of credit for inspiring creativeness and for instilling an appreciation for the arts in their students.

DECORATING CANDLEHOLDERS Mrs. Jones and Mr. O'Neal work intently to boost the Christmas spirit.
ART I CLASSES are taught by instructor Mr. Voigt.
PREPARING PAINTS for her art class is freshman art teacher, Mrs Clavert.

HANDS IN POCKET Mr. Luetkemeyer talks to his graphic arts class.

CUTTING METAL is demonstrated by Mr. Shopper.

EXPLAINING THE CARD, Mrs. Kohen talks with a student about the problem.

KEYPUNCH is one of many office skills taught by Mrs. Venz.

CHECKING TOTALS, Miss Arthur helps a bookkeeping student.

STANDING BEFORE CLASS, Mrs. Warren gives instruction to her typing class.

MACHINE OPERATIONS are explained by Mrs. Crews.

Better Futures Through Business Courses

The purpose of the business department is to train students for a career in the business world. Preparatory courses include Basic Business, Typing, Shorthand, and Bookkeeping. A senior may enroll in the advanced courses of Accounting, Secretarial Practice, and Vocational Office Practice.

The vocational business department moved into the Nichols Career Center at mid-year. The classroom area is set up as a model office and students work on machines such as the Memory Typewriter, Magnetic Card Typewriter, and Executive Typewriter on an individualized basis. A final project for the year was an office simulation where the students performed all the functions of a true-to-life office.

OBSERVING Joyce Finke operate the memory typewriter is department head, Miss Bish.
WATCHING as Mrs. Loehner explains the assignment to Debbie Norfleet is Mrs. Shull, also a typing teacher.
PINNING EXAMPLES on her bulletin board is Mrs. Wood.
A SHORTHAND ASSIGNMENT is explained by Mrs. Claiborn to Cindi Stalcup, Margaret Hawes, and Connie Smith.

PLANNING FOR COLLEGE, Melanie Collum talks over ideas with head Counselor, Mr. Carroll Clithero.
SORTING THROUGH PAPERS, Mrs. Shipley prepares for her next student.
PULLING STUDENT FILES is one of the responsibilities of Mrs. Clark, secretary in the counseling office.

Counselors

Aid Students

The counseling department exists for the purpose of helping students through their high school years. The department has wealth of information about careers and educational opportunities.

JC counselors assist students in selecting the right courses that would benefit them most in their chosen occupations. The staff of three men and four women are available to help with personal problems, scheduling difficulties, and college planning.

The counseling department strives to help JC students adjust and make the most of their high school years.

CONFERRING over a list of students, Mrs. Pritts and Miss Weir reach a decision.

PONDERING a schedule, Mr. Hitz tries to smooth out a scheduling difficulty.

WRITING A MEMO is vocational counselor, Mr. Rogers.

FINDING INFORMATION easily is one of Mrs. Freeman's important assets.

Ye Olde English

The English department is offering several new courses in English and American literature and advanced grammar this year, because, along with the two required courses in English, there is also an elective credit to be filled.

STIRRING A DISH Mrs. Haralson demonstrates the art of cooking to the class.

Dr. Ed. & Home Ec. Prepare Students

Did you ever wonder what made you hungry during first hour when you just had breakfast? It was probably the aroma of the gourmet dishes cooking in foods class. Home economics has helped students prepare for being on their own and for marriage by offering classes in foods, clothing, child development and home nursing.

Driver's Education also prepared students for life by providing proper training for driving on the highway. This year a driving range was added which has helped teach young adults the basics of driving.

BULLHORN IN HAND Mr. Jones directs traffic on the driving range. STUDYING THE BOOK, Mr. Gibbs puzzles over what to assign. CONFERRING ABOUT GRADES Mr. Hovis and Mr. Fitzmaurice explain the grading system to a student.

Communication Skills Improved by Speech and Foreign Language

The Speech Department has kept busy this year with numerous tournaments. Mrs. Linda Berry and Mrs. Anne Whitt combined efforts to aid students in speech and drama. Mrs. Whitt also teaches radio broadcasting and debate. Mrs. Cathy Dean teaches beginning speech.

The Language Department added German to the foreign language curriculum along with Spanish, French, and Latin. A German Club was also added, with German teacher Mrs. Heidi Lowrance as sponsor.

ATTENDANCE for her drama class is checked by Mrs. Dean.
MAKE-UP is applied to Jack Cartee by Mrs. Berry.
LOOKING OVER a student's work is speech and debate teacher, Mrs. Whitt.

CONDUCTING THE ORCHESTRA, Mr. Gentzsch prepares for an upcoming performance.

AT FRESHMAN, Mr. Healey monitors study hall and conducts the choir.

Music And Library Staffs Stay Active

The music department, as in the past, has completed a year filled with many activities. The 89th Capitol Caroling and the trip to the Tournament of Roses Parade were but two of the many activities for the year.

This year the library experienced changes along with the addition of the freshmen to Senior High. It expanded to the old office on the first floor which was used as a study area.

PREPARING A DISPLAY Mrs. Wright and Mr. Blankenship get ready for the Christmas season at Freshman.

SORTING PERIODICALS are Mrs. Hiatte and Mrs. Old. SMILING PLEASANTLY, Mrs. Hafner greets students in the library.

Math & Science Offer New Courses

Did you know you are breathing in molecules of air that George Washington breathed? You can learn this and all kinds of interesting facts in a science class. The science department consists of chemistry, physics, earth and physical science, botany, and the new course of human physiology.

Because of the many courses offered, the science staff has been instrumental in helping several students pursue a career in science.

Another interesting area is math. Geometry, math analysis, algebra I and II, general math, computer math and statistics are available to all interested students.

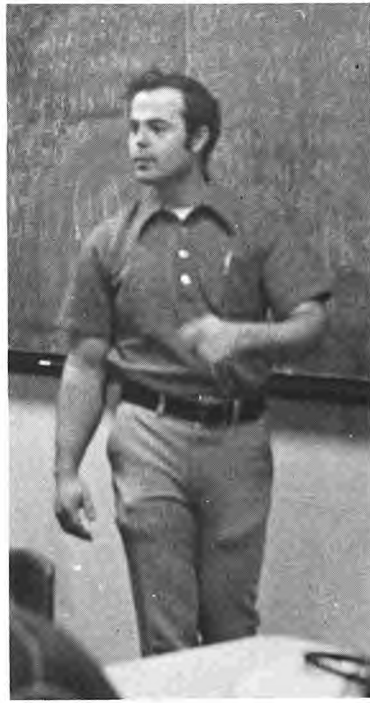

EQUIPMENT IS READIED by Mr. Record and Mr. Neblett for an experiment.

LECTURES ON ANATOMY are prepared by Mrs. Stanford and Mr. Sontag.

P.E. and R.O.T.C. Stress Coordination

The PE department stresses the development of teamwork and coordination. The sports that are offered are; tennis, basketball, archery, volleyball, football, soccer, softball and dancing. JC also makes available golf, ice skating, and bowling to interested students.

These teachers not only put in the full six hour school day, but also spend many after school hours training JC's many competitive teams and working with the Jayettes. The program's purpose is to develop athletic skills along with the ability to work with others.

The ROTC department here at JC, is a Junior Branch of the Air Force, Col. Bobby Taylor and Sgt. Leon Benton teach aerial navigation, flight patterns and spend many hours training the color guards. ROTC's purpose is to teach high school students about the military service and to develop skills and coordination.

Is It Really History

The title history really doesn't seem to fit this department any more. Courses such as Comparative Government and International Relations are branching out into a modern world, while courses in Sociology and Psychology are helping us to look at our own lives.

Yes, the areas covered by this section are certainly looking at the present and often into the future not just at the past. The term, "history," just is not sufficient to describe this department.

Vocational Areas Expand

This year a BIG change was noted at JC — a new vocational building was used for the first time. With the opening of the building, several vocational classes were added and old ones enlarged. More opportunities are available in building trades, vocational business, auto mechanics, COE, office work experience, and many others.

Students enrolled in vocational classes are given opportunities such as building houses and repairing cars. They also have an opportunity to learn the operation of the data processing equipment. Auto mechanics and building trade classes meet for three hours every day. Classes in industrial arts are available to interested students.

Earn While You Learn

The Work Study Program was set up by the Missouri Department of Education in order to help the Special Education student. In this program, educational and vocational services are offered to young adults sixteen years of age and older.

A student is scheduled into select regular classes. They receive training in the classroom to prepare them for the business world. They also have on-the-job training. In this program students go out and work in a regular job situation.

A class in Job Readiness is taken to prepare them for the practical side of his future placement in the open job market.

PAPER WORK is a must in every department and as head of Work Study Mrs. Malone gets her share.

It is hard to imagine that for one day's supply of fish, 700 patties are prepared. Also in one day four cases of green beans are used, along with 90 pounds of hamburger. The ordering and preparation of all this is the responsibility of Mrs. Rita Loveall, manager of the Senior High cafeteria.

At 6 a.m. Mrs. Loveall is found in the kitchen working toward the noon meal. If there is an evening banquet at school, she will stay to see that everything goes well.

Mrs. Loveall has been with the school system for 10 years. We feel it's time that she be recognized for her years of service and the great care and devotion she has for the food service.

There are many other services provided here at JC. Both school buildings have a staff of custodians that keep our buildings clean and liveable. There are eight secretaries that keep the school running smoothly from attendance to grade cards. It would be next to impossible to function without these services — they help make JC the great school it is.

AFS Walk Together, Talk Together

At JC we are fortunate to have had an excellent AFS program since 1961. At that time a committee consisting of Rev. and Mrs. Lytle, Mrs. Paul Doll, Mr. Marvin Fleming, Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Gibbs organized a citizens committee to sponsor AFS at JC. We have had a student from a foreign country every year, except one, since that time. Our students have come from Finland, Germany, Japan, Brazil, Turkey, Netherlands, France, New Zealand and this year from Italy. Jefferson City families have been the American family for the students during their year with us. AFS is supported by contributions from local citizens and civic clubs, and most importantly by the students of JC.

Membership in AFS grew to over 100 students this year. Activities for the year started with a welcome party for exchange student, Mickey DiCorpo in the fall. The AFS State Convention was held on November 15. Committee chairmen for the convention were: housing, Jan Foresman, Susan Toft, Carolyn Dampf; decorations, Chris Cook, Robbie Hileman, Marla Gerlach; food, Reba Gregg; invitations, Donna Houchin; tour, Susan Thomas. A Christmas party was held at Peggy Quigg's house.

AFS members held a birthday party for Mickey in January. Share Day was held in the spring to help support next year's AFS student. A farewell picnic was held in May to say good-bye to Mickey.

Mickey Joins In JC Activities

Mickey DiCorpo from Rome, Italy, enjoyed this year as Jefferson City High School's foreign exchange student. He felt that the United States and Rome were alike in many ways.

Coming from a family of five, Mickey has two sisters, age 14 and 19. His parents work for the United Nations in Rome.

During school hours, Mickey's favorite classes were college prep. and chemistry. AFS, French Club, Math Club, and Spanish Club kept Mickey busy with extra-curricular activities. In his spare time, Mickey likes to paint, read and play classical music.

Art Club Goes All Out For Bingham

The 1975-76 Art Club was kept busy all year with the George Caleb Bingham effort. The state had to come up with 1.8 million dollars to keep the collection of Bingham's drawings in the state of Missouri. The Art Club itself presented the foundation with a check for $100.

A speaker visited the Art Club and gave a presentation on George Caleb Bingham's life and drawings. The group also went to Columbia, Missouri to view the Bingham collection. While in Columbia, the club toured Columbia College's Art department, and several other museums.

The Art Club also sponsored a Sketch Day for the Junior High students. That night they entertained the Sketch Day participants and their parents at Simonsen Junior High School.

Talent Brushed Up By Art Clubbers

Out of all the clubs at JC Art Club was certainly one of the busiest! The club made and sold Jay Spirit mugs during Homecoming week. They molded clay pots into strange little people called swingers and gave them to the teachers as Christmas presents. At the annual Christmas party, the members displayed and sold various crafts and handmade items they had made.

Unfortunately, the weather was not always with the Art Club. But members braved the cold temperatures and both the Street Fair and Sketch Day were successful.

The club rounded out the year with a picnic at Memorial Park. The probationary members were initiated into the club and next year's officers were announced along with various award winners.

Marching Jay Band — Coast To Coast

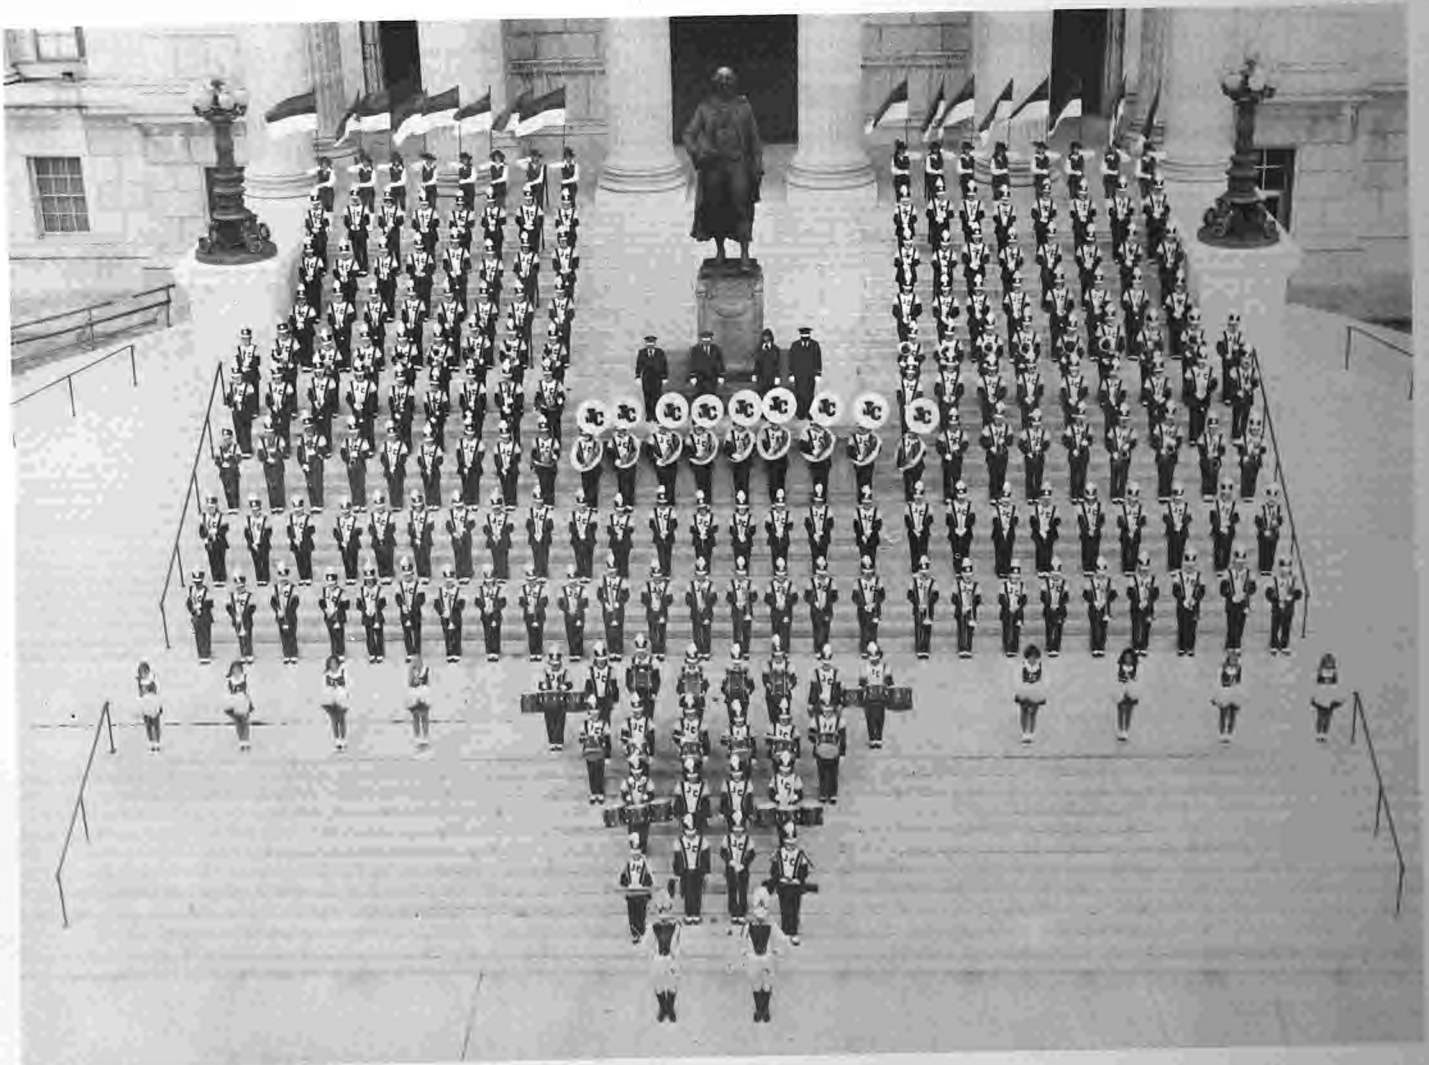

The 75-76 school year was an unforgettable one for the 210 members of the Marching Jay Band.

In early fall the band walked off with 2nd and 1st place trophies at Veiled Prophets and SMS contests respectively. The performance at a St. Louis football game on Thanksgiving Day, and the reception of a proclamation from Governor Bond were other highlights.

Then, on Christmas Day, the biggest event of all began as the 210 band members began their trip to the Rose Bowl Parade.

Both the Varsity and Concert bands performed at band night and in the annual spring concert in April. Concerts before the Missouri Music Educator's Association and for the Freedom Train were other highlights for this year's concert musicians.

Jazz Bands "Play Around"

The Jazz Band program at JC keeps over 90 band students "playin' around" for the entire year. There are three bands in the program: Jazz, Lab, and Stage.

The Jazz Band, along with various performances in St. Louis and Kansas City, performed at Disneyland during the Rose Bowl trip to Pasadena. Other performances at Washington, D. C. and at the New Orleans Jazz Festival this spring, highlighted this year for the Jazz Band.

At least one of the three bands provides a spark at all the Jay basketball games. At various student activities the Lab and Stage bands add their talent.

Practice for the Jazz program begins in the spring of the previous year with evening practices on nights of regular summer band. One or two nights a week for the rest of the year go toward making the jazzers the fantastic musicians they are.

Frosh Band Carries On Tradition

The 75-76 school year was an exciting one for members of the JC Freshman Band. For the second straight year they marched their way to first place in their class and won the trophy for best band overall in the Lebanon Christmas Festival. Like their upperclass counterparts, Cadet Band members must arise before the sun to weave between the yard lines.

Seriously, many hours of practice and effort are required to be able to win a contest such as the Lebanon parade. Performances at band night and in the Homecoming parade also highlighted this year for the Freshman Band.

COE Lets Students Learn N' Earn

Responsibility is a key word when talking about COE. A student in COE learns out in the real working world, not just by job simulation.

"I'm not the only teacher; the employer each student works for is also a teacher," said Mr. Ron Marsch, COE co-ordinator. "They do a lot of learning while actually on the job.

The 51 students Mr. Marsch supervises are employed at 36 different places. The students also learn by talking to their fellow students about their jobs.

"They mainly learn from each other and their own mistakes in the different businesses," Mr. Marsch concluded.

COE Aims Students Toward Career Goals

"It's the most fantastic and unusual class in the world," quipped Mr. Fred Linhardt, COE co-ordinator. The class he is describing is Co-operative Education.

COE involves approximately 100 students. Each student has a "training agreement" where classwork is part of his grade, and his on-the-job training is another part.

The purpose of the course is to help the student learn about employment, the employment market, and his own career goals.

COE is divided into two parts, Distributive Education and Trade and Industrial Education. Distributive includes retail and wholesale markets and marketing and distribution. Trade and Industrial Education includes trade occupations which includes anything from carpenters to registered nurses.

To sum it up, Mr. Linhardt said with a smile, "It's different."

COE Banquet Highlights Year

Outstanding students were recognized at the annual COE Employer-Employee Banquet held April 29. Barb Cassmeyer was given the COE Service Award and Georgia Lauten was named COE Student of the Year.

"COE really helps you. It gives you the start in the world you wouldn't normally get," said COE student Alan Sanning.

"It helps you find out what you want to do when you get out of school," commented Dan Werdehausen.

"It gives us the training we need that we can't get in school," noted Mary Tomblinson, COE club president.

Choir Accents Bicentennial Year

Throughout the year the Senior High Choir, under the direction of Mr. Carl Burkel, performed before the student body in addition to various community activities. The Capitol once again was the scene for the annual Capitol Caroling, involving over three hundred students including the Freshman Choir.

This year the choir sang at many school gatherings, including the Thanksgiving, Easter, and Veteran's Day assemblies. This year's operetta, The Music Man, was a tremendous success involving hours of work on the part of Mr. Burkel and his students. In the spring, the choir entertained in the mansion gardens and at the Marcellus court assembly.

To top off this busy year, the choir performed a major role in the Bicentennial Celebration on May 13, which involved most of the student body.

Chorale Members Are "Noted" People

Dedicated juniors and seniors, who were selected by Mr. Burkel, make up this year's Chorale. Two mornings a week the Chorale rehearsed music for the many concerts they performed throughout the school year.

Last fall, the Chorale travelled to Warrensburg to sing for the Missouri Teachers Convention. Celebrity Art Linkletter was the featured speaker at the opening meeting.

The Christmas season keeps the Chorale very busy singing for many different civic groups. The highlight of the Christmas season is when the Chorale sings at the Governor's Mansion for the candle light tours.

This spring, the Chorale gave performances in and out of town. The Chorale went to St. James Boys Town at Meramac Springs, and sang at grade schools, just to name a few. The Chorale was featured in the May Bicentennial program at the stadium.

The year was concluded with a dinner at Mr. Burkel's cabin on the Osage River.

"BALLAD OF THE AMERICANS" was performed by the Chorale in the Bicentennial Extravaganza. FEATURED SOLOIST Sylvia Morris sings at many performances. PERFORMING AT THE GOVERNOR'S MANSION at Christmas is one of the Chorale's main events.

JC Debate Squad Has Successful Year

The debate squad had a very successful 1975-76 school year. Jefferson City High School debators captured a trophy at every tournament that they entered. Debating was a new experience for all team members except for Kelly Keefe. "Resolved that the development and allocation of scarce world resources should be controlled by an international organization" was the topic selected for debates this year. Both sides of the topic had to be covered thoroughly by each member of the squad.

REVISING her presentation, Kathy Bauer adds more information.

Mardi Gras Highlights French Club's Year

A five foot six inch duck, a hairy ape, Tinkerbell and Peter Pan, and a group of Siamese triplets would all certainly be termed a little bit strange, especially when they are in one place at the same time. This happened at Mardi Gras, French Club's annual celebration of the famous French holiday "fat Tuesday."

Mardi Gras was the highlight of the year for French Club. It included the fabulous Jazz Band along with the Pom-Pon girls, some humorous and dramatic readings by members of the JC Speech and Debate Squad, and of course, French Club's own Can-Can Girls.

This gayla celebration took a lot of work for the French Club, but they got it done in an excellent way. "French Club has outdone itself this year with Mardi Gras. It was really great," quipped David Hall.

FBLA Prepares Students For Business World

According to the membership statistics of FBLA, women are out to rule the business world. This year's FBLA was totally female and busy.

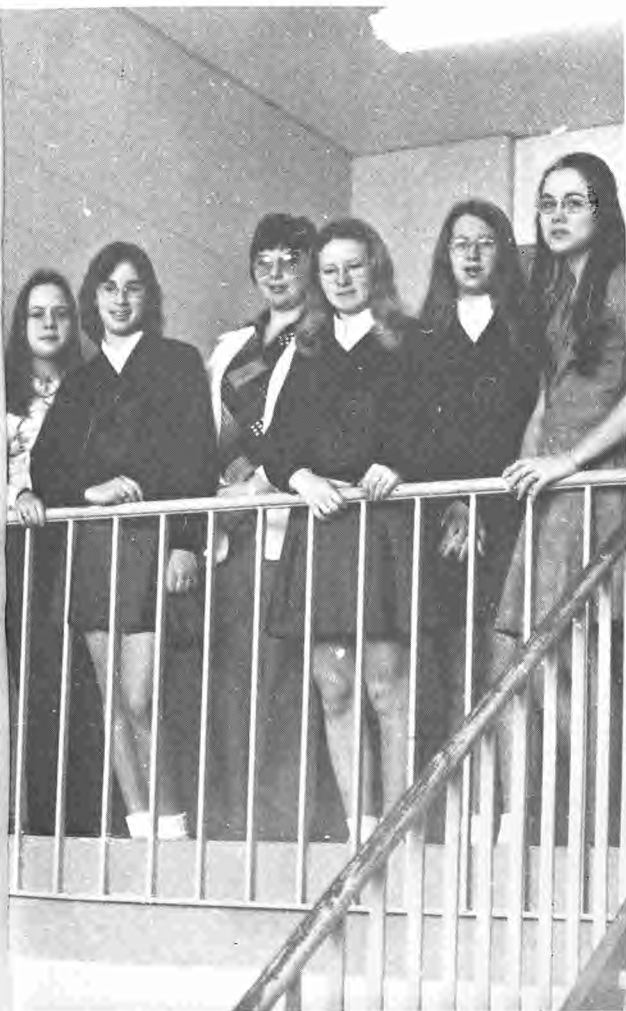

FBLA stands for Future Business Leaders of America. The main objective of the club is to further students' interest in business.

The group's first project was selling stationery. Later the group served refreshments at the District Business Teachers meeting. Various speakers throughout the year spoke to the group. Representatives were sent to the District Contest, and the year was concluded with a spring trip.

FBLA MEMBERS prove to be super stationery salespersons. PRACTICING for the district contest is Teresa Beck. FBLA BAKE SALE provided many calories for JC students.

FHA Has Creative Year

The Future Homemakers of America enjoyed an exciting school year. The 25 member club began their year with a picnic at McClung park. They participated in the homecoming parade with a bicentennial walking float. They presented a skit in the Go-Week Assembly. At their November meeting they made cloth flowers for Christmas presents and also began working on their hand puppets for the Christmas party.

On December 8, they entertained the children from State School No. 3 for the retarded and gave them the puppets they had made. They also enjoyed several guest speakers at their meetings.

As climax for their year they visited the School of the Ozarks and Silver Dollar City accompanied by their sponsors Mrs. Evelyn Bailey, Mrs. Miriam Fuller and Mrs. Nell Findlay.

In May they held a Mother-Daughter tea to install the officers for the 1976-77 school year.

German Club Marks First, Last Year

"One year isn't much of a life span for a club at JC, but no one signed up for the German I class, so the club bites the dust with the class," said Sandy Robb, German Club President.

A lot was accomplished in this maiden and also last year of German Club. They constructed a float for the Homecoming Parade with Jim Howard and I. Emma Truck serving as co-chairpersons. They raised money by having two bake sales before and during school hours. German Clubers also manned a booth at the All-School Carnival which was a test of skill by throwing pillows in a basket by using a mirror to look in as the only help. An impeachment trial for the office of president was also held this year, but it proved unsuccessful. They ended the year with a trip to Herman, Missouri, a typical old German town.

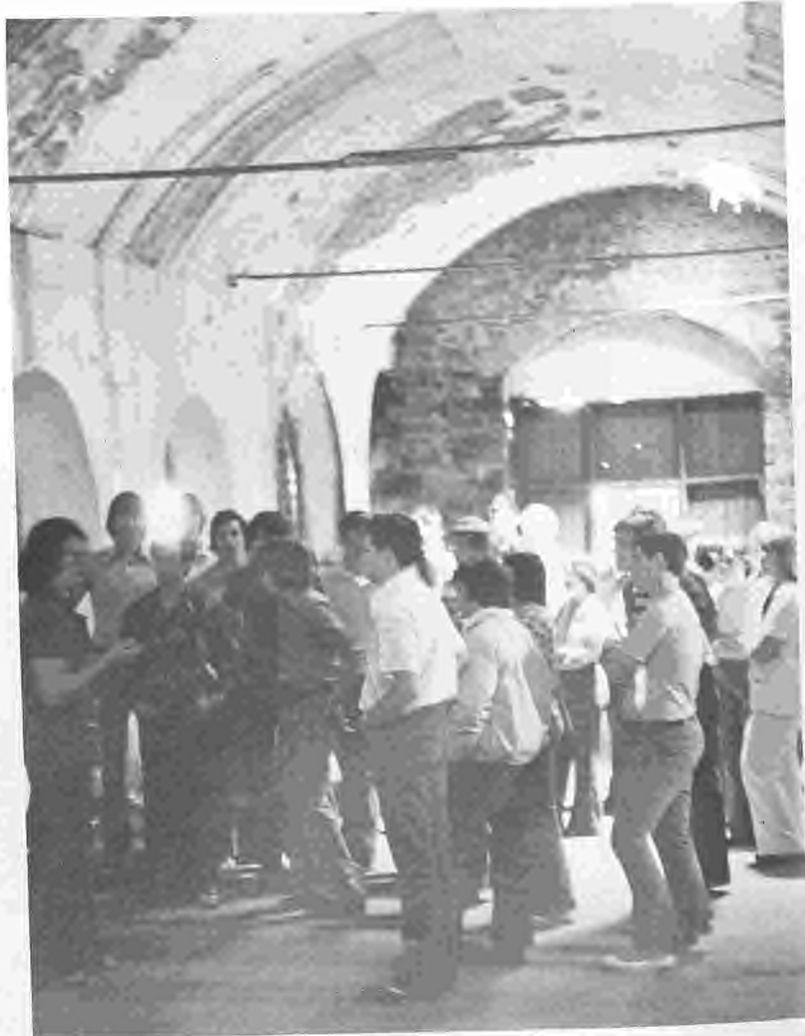

"It was an eventful year, for sure. At least the one year we did exist, we got a lot done and had fun," president Robb concluded.

NO WINE BUYING, but Rob Hyder can still smile.

HOMECOMING FLOAT built by German Club was "Dunk the Pirates in the Spirit of '76."

GAA = Sports And Fun

Sports certainly mean a lot around JC and the girls really got into the action this year. The Girls Athletic Association is an organization for girls who enjoy sports. The goals set by this organization are to promote sportsmanship and teamwork and to perfect the skills of each sport.

Meetings were filled with volleyball, basketball, and trampoline, just to mention a few. The sponsors, Mrs. Dorothy Mock and Mrs. Ginger Smith, filled the girls in on the rules and regulations of various sports and even showed the girls a few tricks on the trampoline.

Altogether, GAA proved that learning can be fun!

Honor Students Meet Qualifications

For students to be elected into the National Honor Society they must meet several qualifications. They must have an S grade average, and must maintain this average to stay a member of the society. Along with scholarship the students are chosen according to their service, leadership, and character. Even though you must be selected by the faculty to get into Honor Society it is a club. They have monthly meetings and banquet in the spring.

The sponsors this year were Mrs. Carolyn Bening and Mr. Steve Phillips.

JC Players Work Hard

Providing plays and entertainment for the school is the main purpose of JC Players. JC Players provided many different areas of drama to participate in. Performing on stage isn't the only thing involved in drama. Back stage crews and committee workers spend many long hours getting ready for the different productions. To remain an active member of JC Players, each member must earn thirty merits a semester.

This year JC Players presented I Never Saw Another Butterfly for the fall play, and The Egg and I for the spring play. JC Players constructed a prize-winning Homecoming float this year and took first place over Latin Club, Math Club, and Honor Society in the Annual Scholar Bowl.

The Covenant Players, a group of professional actors, came to JC on April 7. The actors held workshops all day for the drama classes and gave a performance for the public that evening.

 "I'LL GET EVEN with that cad if it's the last thing I do," said Maxine Mascara (Anne Jarrett).
 "YES, WE ARE doing quite well," Julie Lubker says in "Evening of Drama."

Thespians Are Busy People

Thespians is an international honorary organization for high school students who have excelled in several different areas of the theatre.

To be eligible for Thespian membership, one must be a member of JC Players and earn at least a hundred merits a semester. The student must have participated in three out of the five areas of drama. The areas are committee work, service projects, back stage, on stage, and tournaments. To remain a member of Thespians, a student must maintain a minimum of fifty merits.

As they do every year, Thespians directed and produced "Evening of Drama." Thespian members work hard and spend many long hours on "Evening of Drama," which is their main activity of the year.

February and May initiations were held to bring new members into Thespians. The initiations were completed by going to church and to dinner as a group.

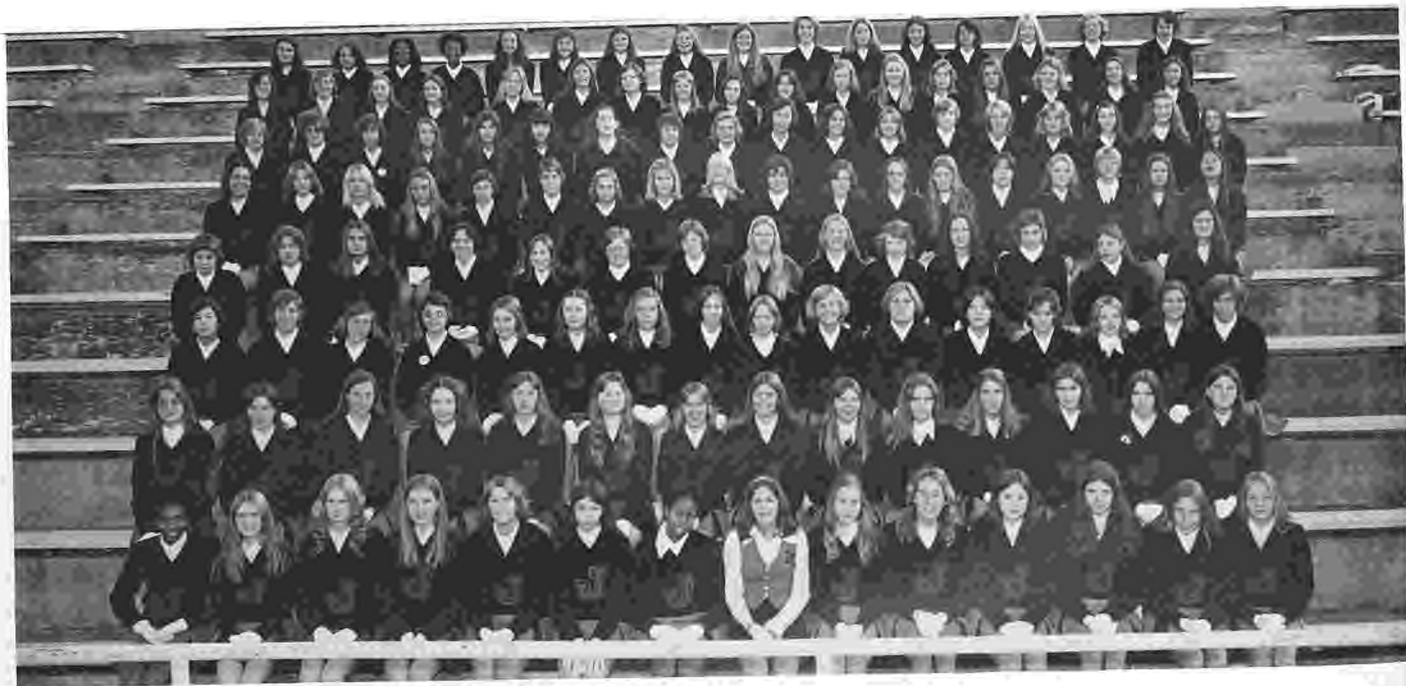

THESPIAN MEMBERS Lisa Parrish and Doug Hoover share a scene in "I Never Saw Another Butterfly."

LAUGHING is a part of plays, according to Erin Hiatte and Audrey Boehmer.

Underclassmen Complement Pep Club

This year, as in years past, the Freshman and Sophomore girls made up over half of the 504 Jayettes. The Freshman got their first taste of early morning practice, and long cold bus rides home from away games. Sophomores added their spirit to morning pep rallies at school. Jayettes are always at games long before they start "seat saving" and working in the concession stand. Jayettes were also behind the girls volleyball team at their games. Neither rain, nor snow, nor dark of night can keep a Jayette from cheering on the Jays.

Jayettes: Spirit Behind The Jays

What is it you think of when Jayettes are mentioned? If you're like most, you think of that enthusiastic group of girls who are always at games yelling and cheering.

Although this is what you usually see Jayettes doing, they do much more. Jayettes practice many early mornings to perfect their dance for the Homecoming half-time show. This year they also helped the basketball boosters serve a chili supper in November. They march, sore feet and all, in the Homecoming parade. The spirit signs taped all over school show yet another talent Jayettes possess. Some Jayettes earn merits by arriving early to serve as "seat-savers" or concession workers.

Jayettes show their spirit many ways, but "all-ways" behind the Jays.

Senior Jayettes Look Back On Year

Being a Jayette is something that Senior girls will always remember. It takes a lot of devotion, but most of all it takes spirit. This spirit stays with the girls long after they graduate, even after the memories fade.

Leading the Jayettes for the 75-76 year were Joyce Constance, president; Debbie Allred, vice-president; Denise Thrash, secretary; Stephanie Mallory, secretary; and Susan Toft, treasurer.

Latin Club Is Definitely No Myth

Yes, what you've heard about Latin Club is not a myth! In the go-week assembly they really did have someone dressed in a toga rolling a peanut across the floor with his nose. Just to be initiated, new members had to fish the eye of Medussa from a bucket of water, and everyone knows how slimy those eyes are. This club also constructed the world's largest dollar bill just to "buck" a few pirates.

Aside from these seemingly ridiculous activities, Latin Club did do some normal things. For their Valentine party, members made Valentines for the patients at St. Mary's Health Center. In April the club went to Columbia for the Latin convention.

Under their fearless leader, Mr. James Farris, Latin Club members further enlightened themselves in the area of classical studies.

AN UNUSUAL PERFORMANCE was given by the Latin Club in the go-week assembly.

SCHOLAR BOWL CONTESTANTS ponder on another mind-boggling question.

"IN PONG WE TRUST" was the name of the club's carnival booth.

A/V Club Helps Teachers

The Audio-Visual Club is a service organization designed to teach the students the use and maintenance of the various audio-visual equipment available to the school. Members of the club learn how to run the machines during meetings and study halls. These students help teachers by setting up and running A/V machines for them. Plans for the year included a trip to Warrensburg and Missouri University.

1976 Marcullus: A Real Bargain

One and eight hundred and seventy-five thousandths of a penny is anything but a large sum of money. In these days of forever rising prices, it's always nice to come across a real bargain, something worth investing in.

The bargain mentioned above is, of course, the 1976 Marcullus. At less than 2 cents a page, it is well worth investing in. The Marcullus is guaranteed to double, triple, and quadruple many times over in value as the years go by.

Lots of long hours of hard work and some good old blood, sweat, toil, and tears have gone into the making of the 1976 Marcullus. Besides, where else can one get 320 action-packed pages of our school year, starring none other than the students of JC, for such a mere pittance. This message has been brought to you by your friendly 1976 Marcullus staff and its wonderful advisors, Ms. Brakke and Ms. Bish.

CONCENTRATION is essential to Dan Teubner as he finishes one of his layouts. SCHEDULING PICTURES to be taken is Marcullus photographer, Eric Vanderslice.

PLANNING LAYOUTS for the Class section are Jayne Kaiser and Jennifer Bauer.

Marcullus Staff Puts In Hours Of Hard Work

An awful lot of work went into producing the 1976 Marcullus — not just your everyday run-of-the-mill work, either. Drawing layouts, selling ads, sorting students' names, selling yearbooks, writing copy and captions, taking pictures, developing pictures, cropping pictures, and proofing the final pages are just a few of the Marcullus staff's duties.

Led by Editor-in-chief, Susan "Coach" Bodamer, the staff met with some pretty tough headaches and "vanquished" all of them. Many lunch hours and countless hours before and after school and even on Saturdays were spent putting the yearbook together. That is not to mention a semester of class and meetings once a week after school first semester.

One school year is a hard thing to condense into 320 pages. The fact that JC is one of the best schools ever established makes the condensation even harder. The 1976 Marcullus staff has done its best to present the 1975-1976 school year in this publication. Oh, by the way, this message has been brought to you by your friendly 1976 Marcullus staff.

Math Club Successful In Relays

The highlight activity of the Math Club this year was participating in the Math Club Relays in Warrensburg on Saturday, March 27. Math Relay participants had a fine showing at Central Missouri State University. They received many awards including two first places by Bob Gladden and Alan Sommerer. Steve Smart was awarded a scholarship to CMSU for being the second highest scoring senior among class "L" schools.

The 25-member club included several activities in their calendar. They joined in the Homecoming festivities with a float "Jasper Jay's Pirate Party." Spirit buttons were sold during the football season by the club.

At Christmas time a party was held at Mr. Templeton's farm. During basketball season the Math Club worked in the concession stand. Also for the first time this year Math Club entered the scholar bowl. The year was completed with a spring picnic.

The sponsors for Math Club were Mr. Dale Clithero, Mr. Carl Martin, and Mr. Dorsey Templeton.

Orchestra Supplements JC Music Program

Capitol Caroling, operetta, Marcellus coronation and the Public School Bicentennial Celebration are among the several activities the Jefferson City High School orchestra participated in this year. They also performed at a seminar at Lincoln University, and held several concerts for the elementary school students. They performed two formal concerts of their own.

Eight students from the orchestra performed regularly with the Jefferson City Symphony this year. Carl Drewel received the outstanding senior award this year from the symphony.

This year's principals or leaders of each section included: Lorna Webster, Annette Couchman, Jon Beetem, and Carl Drewel.

LED BY Mr. Donald Gentzsch, the orchestra plays for elementary students.

Lettermen - Political Science Serve JC

The lettermen's club is a service organization composed of JC's outstanding athletes who have earned varsity letters in cross country, football, basketball, wrestling, track, baseball, tennis, or golf. They serve the school by guarding ropes at football games, sweeping floors at basketball games, and helping with other athletic events.

The Political Science Club is a new club at JC this year. The club began the year by sponsoring a spirit chain for the JC-Kewpie football game. The members had a Christmas Party for the children at Wansing Home, a home for mentally retarded. In the spring, the Political Science Club had voter registration for the eighteen-year-olds able to vote in the upcoming election.

Quill & Scroll Initiates 56

Quill & Scroll is an honorary organization for high school students interested in journalism. Membership consists of outstanding journalists from the Marcullus staff, the Red & Black staff, and the radio-broadcasting class.

A candlelight initiation was held in the Little Theatre with a reception following. The parents of those to be initiated were asked to attend. The group also sponsored a bake sale. At the spring awards banquet, students were recognized for outstanding journalistic work during the year.

INITIATING NEW MEMBERS into Quill & Scroll is Susan Bodamer.

Quill And Scroll Sponsors Who's Who At JC

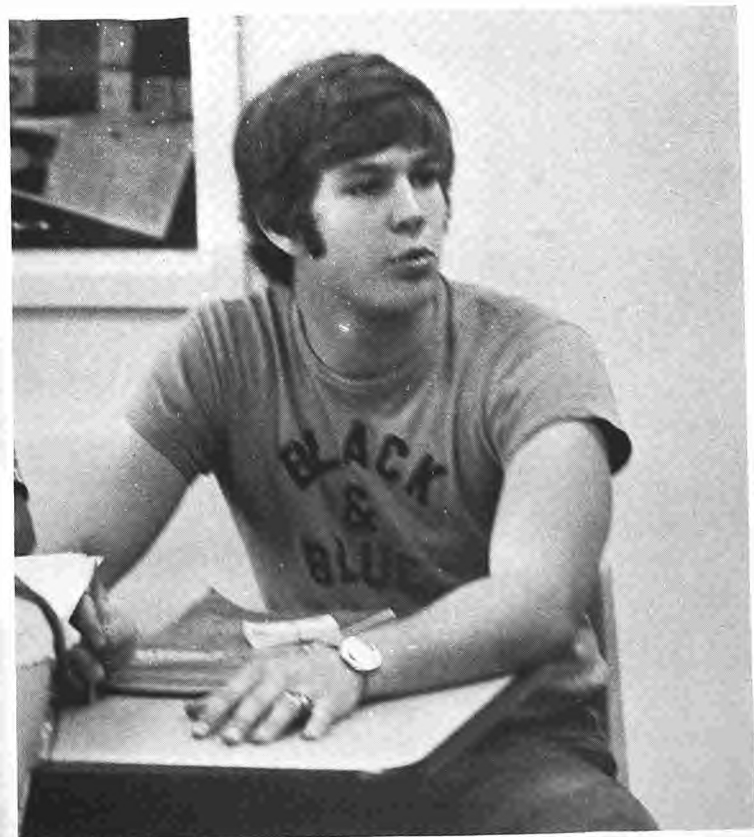

Each year Quill and Scroll sponsors a Who's Who contest at JC. The four areas that are covered are academics, sports, clubs, and representatives from each class.

The faculty chose the most outstanding student academically, and the coaches chose the outstanding girl and boy athlete. After a list of nominees were given to the Student Council by the club sponsors, they voted for one outstanding club member. The class members chose representatives from each class on the basis of loyalty, leadership, and their contributions to JC.

Red

Black

Contrary to popular belief the Red & Black staff does not live at Dunkin Donuts...or Mac's, or any other local dining establishment.

Since early August, this year's Red & Black staff has been continually at work publishing JC's bi-weekly newspaper. Many-a-night's sleep has been lost over short articles that should have been long, forgotten ads, and pictures that never got finished. Then on the other hand, many-a-day has been spent sitting in class trying to think of something to do.

This year's staff, "like none other before," consists of 26 seniors and the spirited advisor, Mrs. Helen "Mama" Brakke. Without the guiding hand of Mrs. B the paper couldn't have come to life this year.

Being on the Red & Black staff is a once in a lifetime experience that will linger in the minds of the staff for many years to come.

DISCUSSING PLANS for future issues are John Ruth and Buddy Gillespie.

RED & BLACK ADVISOR Mrs Helen Brakke helps Tom White, Corey White, and Sarah Dawson with some problems.

Red & Black Journalists Have Multiple Duties

No one ever said that Red & Black members aren't busy people. Writing copy, setting up pictures, taking pictures, selling ads, and finally selling the finished product are just a few of their duties.

The finished product consists of a total of fifteen regular issues of the Red & Black, three special issues (April Fool's and two spirit issues), and three magazines (Homecoming, Christmas, and Memory). That makes a total of 228 pages.

The work the staff does is not in vain. The Red & Black belongs to the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association and the National Scholastic Press Association. In past years, the critical services of these organizations have awarded the Red & Black with All-State and All-American rankings.

Some people say that it is the students of a school who make a school paper good or bad. In part, that's true; but it also has a lot to do with the way the staff puts the paper together.

It is the way this year's staff put the paper together that made it so special to us.

HELPING OUT at the Quill & Scroll bake sale are Red & Black members.

WORKING HARD in the classroom are Chris Mallory, Patti Wilson, and Craig Overfelt.

SELLING PAPERS is Red & Black member John Ruth.

ROTC Involves Students

This, the ninth year of ROTC in the Jefferson City Public Schools, started with all students marching in the Homecoming Parade.

In the past years, the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program has shown substantial growth and fulfilled its primary mission — introduction in the fundamentals of aerospace science.

Along with presenting the colors at all assemblies and sports events, the ROTC unit was chosen to lead the 200 units that participated in the Christmas Parade. According to Commander Shawn Payne, "It's quite an honor to have our unit leading the parade."

The color guard, under the command of Don Rogers, has been very busy with assemblies and sports events. They also had the opportunity to present the colors for the Farm Bureau convention at Tan-Tar-A.

ROTC Opens Door To Opportunity

This year the 132 cadets enrolled in ROTC had the opportunity to visit two military bases.

On October 22, the unit traveled to Fort Leonard Wood with the help of the Army Reserve Buses. They found that the base was set up for the training of heavy equipment operation and maintenance.

The second trip was planned for February 10. This trip found the cadets at Whiteman Air Force Base where the Minute Man Missiles are in operation.

The ninth annual ROTC Ball was held on December 10; the theme was Cloud 9. Tobias Greenfield provided the music. Highlights of the evening were a reception line and the grand march by the third-year cadets.

SOLO FLIGHT was a possibility for Operations Officer Don Rogers and Commander Shawn Payne.

Inspector OK's ROTC Unit

Each year the Junior Air Force ROTC Unit is inspected to determine if it is operating up to proper standards. This year the Unit was inspected by Capt. Hetzel of the Air Force. Capt. Hetzel started the day with a briefing by five third-year cadets. He observed the Drill Team in practice and attended the ROTC classes where cadets gave reports.

That afternoon the third-year cadets put on a mock trial which was a jury of school officials and Capt. Hetzel. The exercise was termed a success and was commended by Mr. Nichols, who was a member of the jury.

Safety Club Helps Out On Driving Range

The addition of the driving range to JC kept many members of the Safety Club quite busy during their study hall periods. During this hour, students helped by moving cones, directing cars, riding in cars with driver's education students, and then helping park the cars when the hour was over.

In the fall, several members attended a state safety convention at Warrensburg. They left Friday afternoon. That evening there was a banquet with a dance following, and Saturday they attended workshops.

Other activities included a float for Homecoming, which was a wrecked car pulled by a wrecker, a Christmas party, a spring banquet, and a booth in the All-School Carnival.

Science Club Enjoys Hard Work

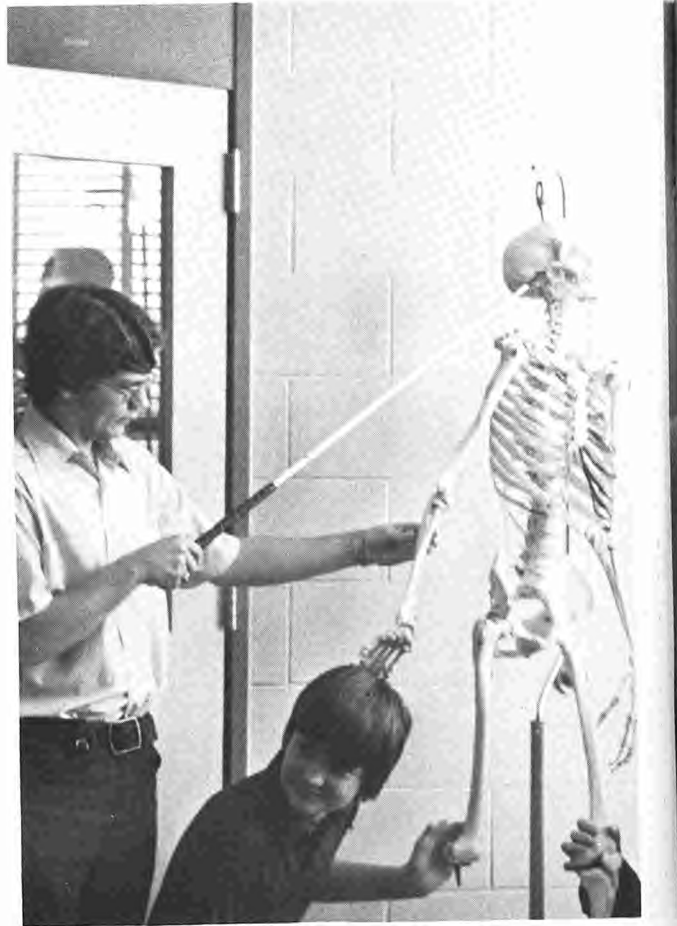

The 1975-76 Science Club proved to be hard workers—physically and mentally.

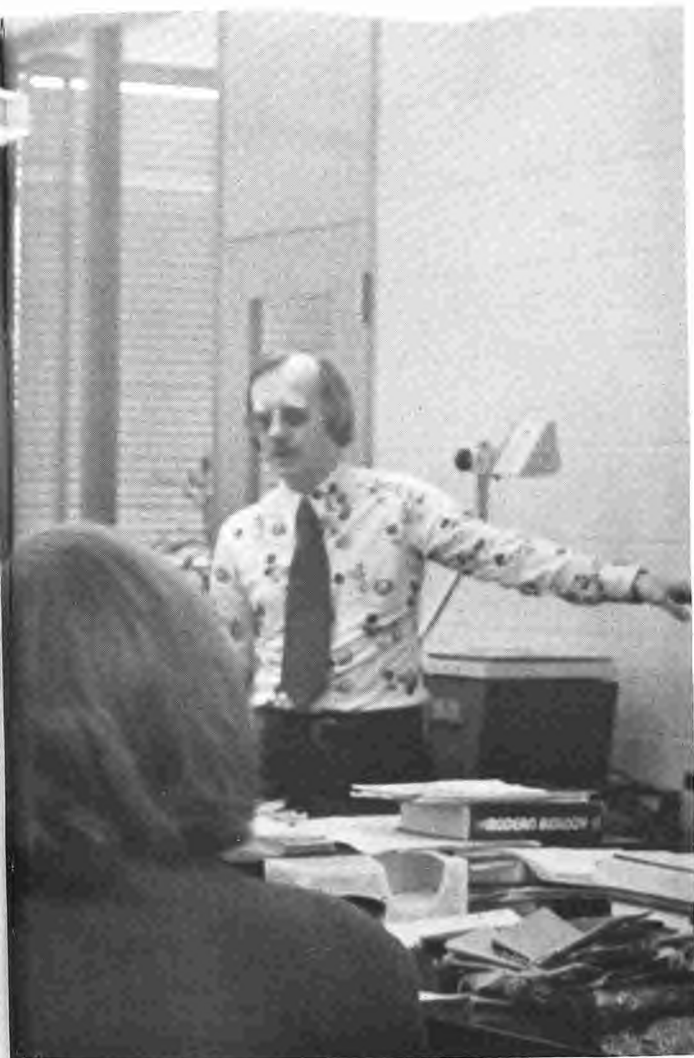

In the mental aspect, the club attended eight bicentennial programs. During the year various speakers visited the club.

Physically, the club was active clearing the new nature area behind the football stadium for the amphitheater. The club pulled through once again with the annual M.S. drive. The club also tended the concession stand at Jay games.

"ARE YOU my mommy?" inquires Bubo, the Great (?) Horned Owl.

"Los Amigos" Go To Mexico

As spring break rolled around, many members of Spanish Club were thinking about the trip they were going to take to Mexico. Enroute to Mexico, the members of Los Amigos stopped in San Antonio for one day to visit the Alamo. While in Mexico, they went to Saltillo to visit various artist's shops and a sarape factory. Next, they traveled to Monterey to see a glass blowing factory and several jewelry shops.

Other activities included a Christmas party with the German Club during which both clubs displayed a pageant of customs; a spring picnic for the election of officers; the traditional selling of red and black spirit balloons during Homecoming; and the sponsoring of a student from Guatemala.

Student Council Completes Busy Year

"Of course, there are many activities that the Student Council is involved with that no one ever thinks about. They just take them for granted," said Richard Hall, student body president.

Some of the things STUCO did were to run all the elections, assemblies, dances, the all-school carnival, and the Thanksgiving project, just to mention a few. This involves a lot of work for a lot of people.

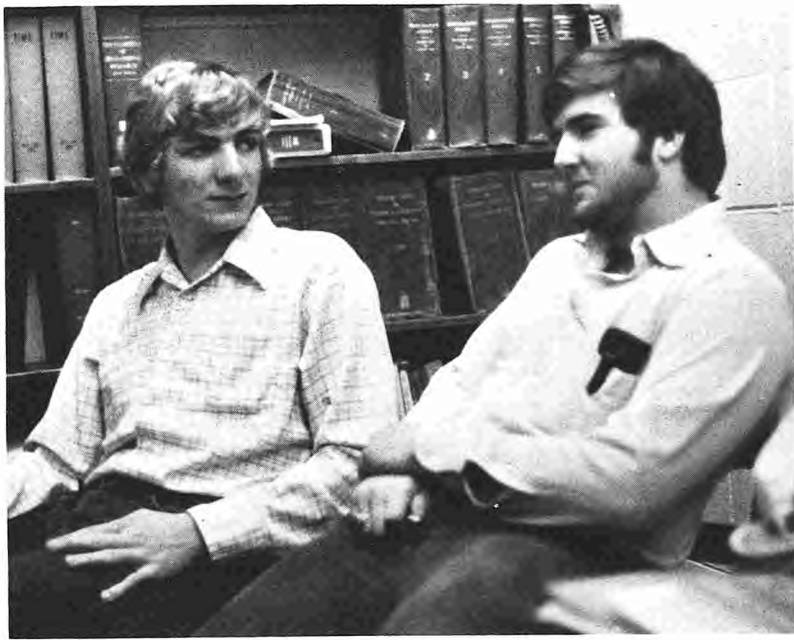

Student Council was led this year by president, Richard Hall; vice-president, Rod Stafford; secretary, Anne Jarrett; treasurer, Lisa Steppelman.

DISCUSSING new business is Joyce Constance and Sandy Braun.

Student Life Student Life Student

Meeting new people, sharing special moments with a certain someone, getting involved in different activities; all of these are a part of student life at JC. Much pride and spirit has always filled the hearts of students. The 1975-76 school year was no exception.

Student life consisted of activities, organized athletics, new classes, and the move of Freshmen to the Senior High building. With the addition of more than 600 Freshmen, Jefferson City High School has a larger, but more unified student body. Linda Mansur summed up her feelings of the Freshman move by saying, "The halls sure are crowded and we run through the weather; the lunch lines a hassle but at least we are together."

MEMORIES OF THE GRADE I LEFT BEHIND

Freshman. What does this word bring to mind? To me it brings feelings of friendship and closeness. A year that is being lived today and becoming a memory tomorrow.

Memories of the band playing below you in English class as the floor vibrates with "On Jeff City," or getting caught scribbling your name on a desk (just so you will be remembered), or rushing to get in line for lunch hoping it's something spectacular and ending up with a raw hot dog or a cold hamburger. In spite of these, your year is full of many new beginnings. Beginnings of long-lasting friendships and acquaintances. You realize your life ahead will be rough, but you also begin to realize that you have many people who care.

Yes, Freshman is a new beginning, a year being lived today in richness and fullness and becoming a memory tomorrow, etched with a little gaiety, a little sadness, and with a feeling of much learning.

FRESHMEN BE PROUD

The coming of September,
Seniors swift in holding new positions as upperclassmen.

Freshmen standing quietly behind in backfields

wishing, wanting and dreaming of being Seniors at J.C.

Tomorrow arrives;
The place of class changes as quickly and swiftly as it arrives.

Seniors leaving
with tears and goodbyes
leaving fond memories behind and wishing

they held the position of Freshmen;

so,
Freshmen be proud,
hold your heads up high,
for you are the fortunate ones
and have

envious eyes upon you.

For you are the starting out of your fondest memories

beginning
at THE HOME OF THE JAYS.

FRESHMAN HIGH

The building itself is a sight to be seen,
Full of cheerful, studious or reckless teens.
The old worn stairways in the dark halls,
With wooden-floored classrooms and plastered walls.

The old auditorium and the swimming pool too.
All these things are being left for new.

We were individuals here, not just lost in a crowd.
But we still belonged to J.C., to our alma mater
we vowed.

We are going to a school of foreign rooms.
And more of those unbelievably crowded rooms.
There will be multitudes of people — all unknown.
When we move to our new scholarly home.

I think that the best thing about being a freshman is the spirit. There is something in the air that gives you a feeling of awe and amazement but mainly spirit. We really do have that and it all comes out when we realize, "I'm a student at JC!" The spirit and enthusiasm that comes out then, when you're a sophomore, junior, or senior, was sparked in your freshman year.

BE YOURSELF

Keep your ideals high
Your feet on the ground.

Let your thoughts soar
Then return them to earth.

Hold onto your faith
It's the foundation of yourself.

Press your memories
Among the papers of your mind
There they can shine.

Most of all, be yourself —
You're beautiful.

SING YE, O SOPHOMORE!

Sing ye, O Sophomore
Sing to me upon my knee
Sing me a song that Harks to the days when
I was such a wise fool as thee.
I venture into the world
And I am beginning to feel old.
Soothe me with a song of the grand days
When I was brave, young, and bold,
Thus spoke the venerable Senior.

Sing ye, O Sophomore
And tell me of thine cheerful ways.
Soon I shall be a great man,
Will you liven my court with your happy gaze?
I'll need your wit and your wisdom
Your faithfulness and charm.
Fill my palace with thy lovely, tinkling voice
I'll treat you well and keep ye from harm.
Thus spoke the brash Junior.

Sing ye, O Sophomore
And tell me, kind sir
How can I be like you
Will ye guide me, and lead me
And show me the way, straight, narrow, and true?
Thus spoke the timid Freshman.

And the merry Sophomore replied yes
To all three in turn
Did their bidding
And cavorted away, singing.

J C SPIRIT

"It was the best year," you'll hear us say.
 Each year is always the best.
 We think our class is the greatest
 And that's all right I'd guess.

It is this spirit that makes JC
 Without it we never could,
 Be all the things we want to be,
 All the things we should.

Each class feels the same as we
 It's a known JC trait,
 To stick together through thick and thin
 That's what makes us best!

Young and free longing for maturity.
That's the way I am,
The way I'll always be;
Never happy with the present,
Searching for future hopes and dreams.
Yet when I'm a senior, my very last year,
On the brink of adulthood and responsibility
The memories of childhood will be ever so dear.

It has been eleven long years, but now for one short year I am finally going to be a Senior in high school. What will I accomplish in the short year and how will I do it? Before now, I could always say, "Well I think I'll wait till next year to join that club or try out for that play or sport." But what will I say next year? Can I afford not to get involved to the fullest and will I be a spectator or a participant? No longer can I take high school for granted, as if I would always be here, because the end is in sight. If only I let it, next year can be one of the best years in my life.

Seniors,
Now we set the pace.
Will it be
Fast and action packed?
Or
Will it be
Slow and easy going?

What will it be like
To be a Senior?
Will we feel differently?
Will we do the right things?
Will we be winners?
Will we store memories
To share someday?
Will we look back
Upon this time and say

"It was great." — or
Will we wish we'd
Done it differently?

Questions,
We must find the answers —
Now that we're
Seniors.

There were four long years ahead
 when we were freshmen
 And now there are none.
 When one looks back it seems like only a moment,
 One particle from the sands of time,
 A remembrance of lost hopes and conquered dreams.
 The long hours in school, pep assemblies,
 Working all night for homecoming,
 Capitol Caroling,
 The great Freshman migration, Senioritis,
 Warm spring air, prom, and skip week. . .
 All combine along with a million other memories,
 Of friends, hopes, and joys. . .
 And will either strengthen us or weaken us.
 None the less, the hope of the generations,
 And fate of the American Dream
 Still lies in the hands of the Bicentennial Seniors.

THE WORLD OF A SENIOR is crammed with football games, band contests, roses, parades, dances, smiles, concerts, and tears. Although these seem unique and personal, they are the feelings that everyone will experience their senior year — the feeling of loss when you realize you're it — the "big class"; the feeling of superiority because you're looked up to and depended on to keep the school spirit thriving.

All our vivid memories will fade into yearbooks, band pictures, and old, out-grown Jayette skirts. Tears, laughter, restlessness, confidence, and security give way to a dangling feeling, as if I am a leaf detaching myself from my family tree.

As I sit here awaiting my indefinite future, I wonder if my existence will be as worthless, restless, and hopeless as it seems at this moment.

And as the sun peeps from behind the clouds, a brightening ray slips through my tears. I realize I will smile again and learn to live and love in the new life blooming before me.

So my freind, another year has passed. It will be just a memory soon, and we all know — we can't live in a memory. For once you step out and close the door — when you re-enter — the special feeling is gone.

A LAST LOOK

Memories of good times,
Of laughter and tears,
This is what we think of,
As we review the last four years.

The beginning was frightening,
We didn't know what to do,
But we learned well,
And soon it wasn't all so new.

The last days dragged on,
Seemingly forever and ever,
We thought school wouldn't end,
It seemed that it would never.

But now we are free,
And now we can see,
Just what we are missing,
And that we've lost our security.

So we move along the road of life,
There is no turning back,
Yesterday was for dreaming,
Now we must act.

Candlelight Ceremony Opens Baccalaureate

After four years of homework assemblies, and school activities, 497 Seniors began their graduation day with the Baccalaureate Service. Graduates entered to the processional, the "Alma Mater" as candles and choir members lines the walkway.

The Reverend Frances Gilgannon gave the invocation; The Reverend June Christensen gave the scripture reading. The choir prepared the seniors for graduation by singing "You'll Never Walk Alone/Climb Every Mountain," "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," and "I'm Going Away." The band performed "Across the Wide Missouri." The Baccalaureate Sermon was given by the Reverend Charles Ross.

The Reverend Lewis Curtis gave the Benediction.

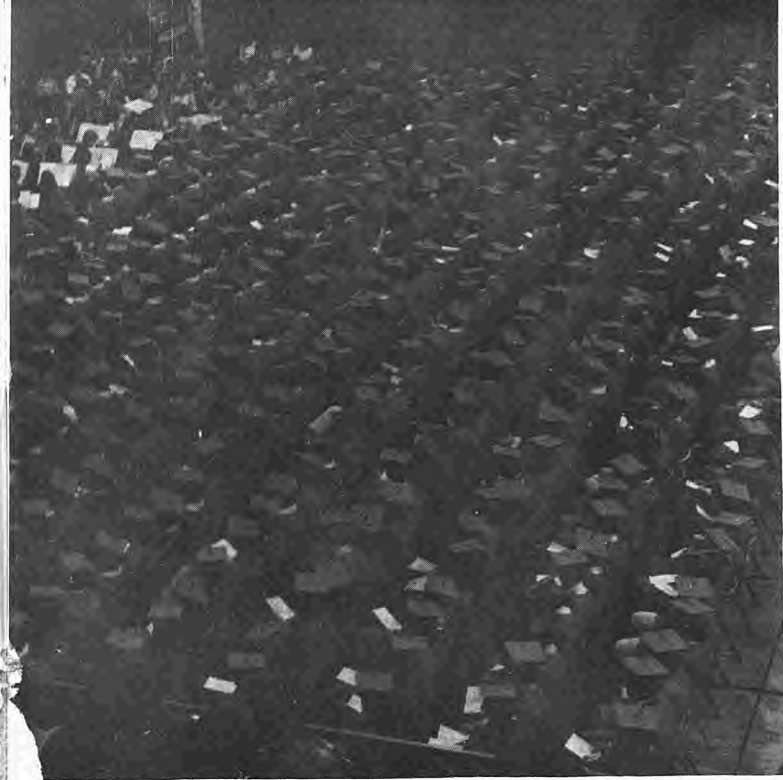

Afterwards, a Senior Brunch was held at Memorial Park. Plates were filled with ham and potato salad as seniors came for their last get-together before Commencement.

Governor Bond Speaker For Commencement

Dressed in bright red cap and gowns, 497 "Bicentennial Seniors" walked around the track as the 102nd graduating class of Jefferson City High School.

Governor Christopher S. Bond, asked the graduates to "Look at reality. Have no expectation of what society can do for you, and concern yourself with today as well as with the future." Reverend Harvel Sanders gave the invocation and the benediction. The Alumni Award was given to Robert H. Hunter. Mr. Marvin Fleming announced Loriel Fischer as valedictorian, John Ruth received the All-School Service Award. The American Legion awards went to Susan Bodamer and Tom White. The V.F.W. Tom Nacy Awards were presented to Erin Hiatte and Stephen Siu.

Afterwards, an all-night party was held at Westgates Lanes. But for many Seniors graduating was one of the happiest and saddest times of their life.

THE GRADUATING CLASS is presented by Mr. Marvin Fleming.
MARCHING IN THE PROCESSIONAL are Linda Busche and Dan Brown.
CONGRADULATING GRADUATE Richard Hall is Governor Bond.

Public Relations Public Relations

The Public Relations section provides a link between the school and the community. Students at JC appreciate the support provided by business and by professional men and women in Jefferson City.

Recent studies have shown that teenagers have more dollars to spend than ever before, therefore, we feel that the public relations section is servicing not only the student but also the merchants.

The Marcullus is self-supporting and depends upon sales and advertising to finance the publication of this book. Therefore, we appreciate the business of the advertisers in the Public Relations section.

From House On Hobo Hill

by Susan Bodamer

The first account of a school in Jefferson City was taught by G. W. Miller in 1828. It was located in a small room adjoining a hotel on the East side of Madison Avenue, across the street from the present location of the Executive Mansion. The school was classified as a subscription school which meant that groups of families formed associations to educate their children. A teacher was hired for a term or a quarter which usually lasted two or three months in the winter and possibly another two or three in the spring. Board and room was often provided the teacher at the home of parents.

First Lot Purchased For $5

On June 8, 1835, a lot on Miller Street was purchased by the Jefferson City School District for $5. This site was the location for the first building which was the House on Hobo Hill. This lot, which was the first public land to be purchased in Jefferson City, survived any change of ownership within the next thirty years and was to become the first site of a separate public high school building, and the site of Simonsen Junior High School. The first public school building in Jefferson City was started on the small lot about 1836. It contained two rooms and was a frame and log building. Two years later on February 19, 1838, the first school day began. The courses of instruction were reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, and grammar. The building in the upper left hand corner of the endsheet is the first school-house, the house on Hobo Hill.

Public schools were started with the first distribution of state funds in 1842.

A time of major expansion started in 1870 when contracts were let out for the new school at Miller and Monroe, which was about five blocks east of the first building. This building, which is in the upper right hand corner of the endsheet, was referred to as the Central or Jefferson building. The first school term in this building opened on September 4, 1871. The term was to run ten months with 11 teachers and final enrollment of 515 pupils.

Honor Roll Established

On September 14, 1874 the first honor roll was established. It listed pupils whose total merits or their mean of standing in scholarship, punctuality and deportment was 9.8 or more for the month. By the close of this school term in 1874 the first class of three girls graduated from the Jefferson City High School. The first graduating exercises of the J.C.H.S. climaxed another series of seemingly miraculous events, similar to the starting of the system in the 1830's.

On September 1, 1878 the little school on Hobo Hill was burned to the ground. One theory in later years blames the vandalism on hoboes, which led to the name of the site as Hobo Hill. Another theory concerned the free loaders who sat on the hillside to observe baseball games and circuses on the field below without buying a ticket. These observers, called hoboes, started the bleacher area to be called Hobo Hill.

Need for Expansion

The school started to get so overcrowded that by 1897 the Board adopted plans for a three-story addition to Central or Jefferson building. There was opposition to such an addition, but support was growing for construction of a new, separate high school building. The school moved into another year without relief. Enrollment on opening day in September 1897 reached a high of 1,028. The Board was forced into rental quarters. One-half of the 112 fifth grade students were housed in the basement of the Christian Church on Main Street, which is now Capitol Avenue. It was then announced in October that there would be half-day classes, morning for part of the students and afternoon sessions for the rest. Finally an eight-room addition was proposed for the Central or Jefferson building.

First Yearbook

On May 6, 1912, the first edition of the yearbook was published. This book consisted of 83 pages and was given the name, Marcellus, by the first art editor, Henry Bacon. This was chosen to reflect the sentiment of a poem by Longfellow which had to do with the shaping of fortunes on the "flaming forge of life." It was said that the Marcellus should serve as a reminder that "our future in the Big World is, after all, only a continuance of our early life in the school world; that as we shape our thoughts and deeds now, so shall we shape them with the big hammer on the larger anvil of maturity."

The next major building shown in the left center of the endsheet was Simonsen High School. It was built in 1914. The new section was placed to the north of the original high school building on Hobo Hill. The bell tower of the older section can be seen over the roof of the new building. A donation made by Mrs. Simonsen in the memory of her husband prompted the Board of Education to name the high school in honor of Mr. Simonsen.

New High School Features Auditorium

An outstanding feature of the new high school was the first auditorium in the school system which helped to expand music and sports. Soon after this they started a band, an orchestra, and a string ensemble. The auditorium also provided an area for the opening of the first weekly assemblies started by the principal, Mr. Beswick, during the 1914-15 school year.

Many private clubs were organized but they were not a part of the school program. One was the High School Club which was to teach boys clear speech, clean life, and clean amusement. This club was soon joined by three other clubs, organized by boys to encourage athletics.

The new auditorium made possible the first commencement exercises to be held at the high school for the class of 1915. This was the first time formal graduating ceremonies were held in a school building. This was also the first time they used the term Junior High School as a part of the Jefferson City Public School System. It was used to apply only to classes of the eighth grade housed in the old part of the high school.

Early Football Teams Bought Own Equipment

A high school football team was also started under the tutelage of Tom Cole. The team met opponents from high schools in Columbia, Sedalia, and Kemper. These players bought their own equipment and uniforms and were honored with membership in the J.C. Club. The more successful athletes bought black sweaters with red stripes.

About 1924 there was a search for the site of a new high school building. On September 8, 1924 contracts were signed for the one-half block area fronting on Miller Street between Madison and Monroe Streets. On February 18, 1925 contracts were let out for a new three-story high school. The cornerstone was laid on June 24. These plans called for the first indoor swimming pool in the school system to be located under the main floor auditorium of the new high school building.

This Senior High Junior College, which is in the middle right of the endsheet, was first occupied in 1926. With the completion of this building, the city opened its first two-year junior college course. Most of the college classes were held on the third floor of the building and the high school occupied the first and second floor. The move to the new building involved grades 10, 11, and 12 of the senior high school. The junior high grades 7, 8, and 9 were assigned to the former high school building, then renamed Simonsen Junior High School. This new school building also provided a new area for community activities.

National Honor Society Organized

The Jefferson City Chapter of National Honor Society was established during this school year. Members were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Also during this school year there was an attempt at a hot lunch service. By 1928 the junior high school cafeteria was in full operation.

On June 10, 1929, Hubert E. Small was hired as the first band instructor. He served on a part-time basis until he was made a full-time band instructor in the senior and junior high schools in June, 1930.

Red & Black Began Publication in 1930

Another highlight of the year was the first edition of the Red and Black. It was to be published every Friday. In 1934 the graduating class voted to wear gray caps and gowns at commencement. Graduates were not the only group to get new outfits that year. Mothers of band members presented the Board of Education a plan for buying uniforms for both junior and senior high school bands. The uniforms were ready by the spring of 1935. These outfits were red capes and overseas caps. The band members furnished their own black trousers and white shirts to complete the outfits. Before this they had worn white slacks and shirts and sometimes letter sweaters.

Capitol Caroling

The first capitol caroling was in 1938. This performance, which was held every year a few days before Christmas, was in the rotunda of the state capitol, and started a tradition which has continued through the years.

As time went on, many other grade schools were added which brings us up to the 1940's. In the spring of 1945, Joe Nichols, Jr. was hired as principal of Simonsen Junior High School. In 1958 he was elected as superintendent of the Jefferson City school system. At that time Mr. Nichols had served ten years as junior high principal and junior college dean. In years to come he was to approach a new record for tenure as superintendent.

In this same year, 1956, the Jay football team began its fantastic record. They had an undefeated season of nine games under the coaching of John Griffith and his assistants, Rex Adams and John Gnagi. When this coach left in 1957, the Board of Education selected John "Pete" Adkins of Centralia as the school's new head coach.

In July, 1957, a major decision in the history of public education was announced by the Jefferson City school directors. They were going to close the junior college program. The title of the administrative head of the senior high school and junior college had been changed from dean to principal. The official name of the junior college had also been changed to the Jefferson City Senior High School.

The next major school, the Jefferson City High School, which is in the lower left corner of the endsheet, was to be completed in 1964. This was the most major revision of the secondary school program since the senior high-junior college building was constructed in 1926. It was to have sixty teaching stations and 172,243 square feet of floor space.

Nichols Career Center

There was one last major expansion in the history of the public schools, and that was the Nichols Career Center, illustrated in the lower right corner of the endsheet. This building brought about many changes in the school. It offered a number of new vocational programs to people in the area surrounding Jefferson City.

The school district has gone through many changes through the years. It has maintained a reputation for excellence in the quality of education provided the youngsters in the Jefferson City area. From a one-room school house in 1828 to a very widely expanded system in 1976, the Jefferson City community continues to educate its youth for a brighter future.

Thanks To Everyone

As I reflect over the year as editor of the 1976 Marcullus, it leaves many cherished experiences in mind. A yearbook is a history of the school year filled with treasures that capture unforgettable memories. In doing this we have tried to show the pride and spirit that filled the halls of JC.

Each commentary and layout has been produced by the determined effort and true dedication of each member of the yearbook staff. They have each spent many hours after school and Saturday morning sessions preparing this book. Each individual has truly contributed something of himself to make this book special. I will remember each one for their support.

There is one lady that couldn't be forgotten, Miss Arlene Bish. She was always there when we needed her and she never lost faith in us when we were behind. Without her help this yearbook wouldn't be complete.

I would also like to thank Mrs. Helen Brakke, who taught the yearbook class this year, for her sincere understanding and helpful guidance. Her friendliness added a lot to the class.

My special thanks go to Mrs. Margaret Crews who spent many afternoons typing copy for us and Zeal Wright for the pictures he took for us.

Karl Lutz, who designed the endsheets, and Joni Teaford, who designed the cover, deserve considerable recognition for their artwork.

My closing thoughts go to you, the student body, for without each of you none of this would have been a reality. As you look back on this yearbook, I hope you will remember the traditions, pride, and spirit that were and always will be part of JC.

Laughter and Tears Unfold Memories

*"Memories are made of things
That happen every day,
Moments as we live them
Things we do or say.*

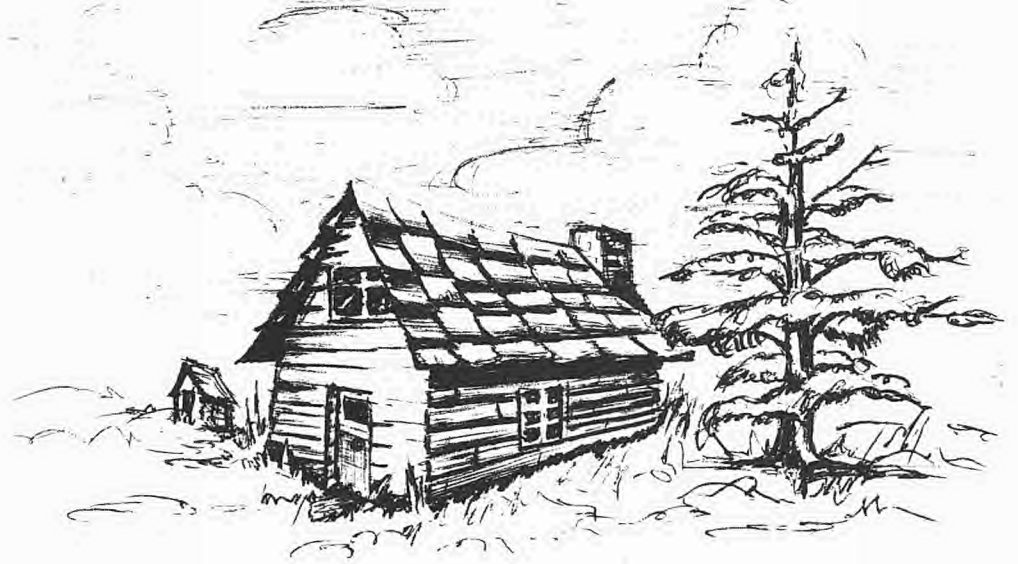

*Little bits and pieces
Of laughter mixed with tears,
Paragraphs and pages
Written through the years.*

*The friendship we remember
Mistakes that we regret,
The ending of a love
We never could forget.*

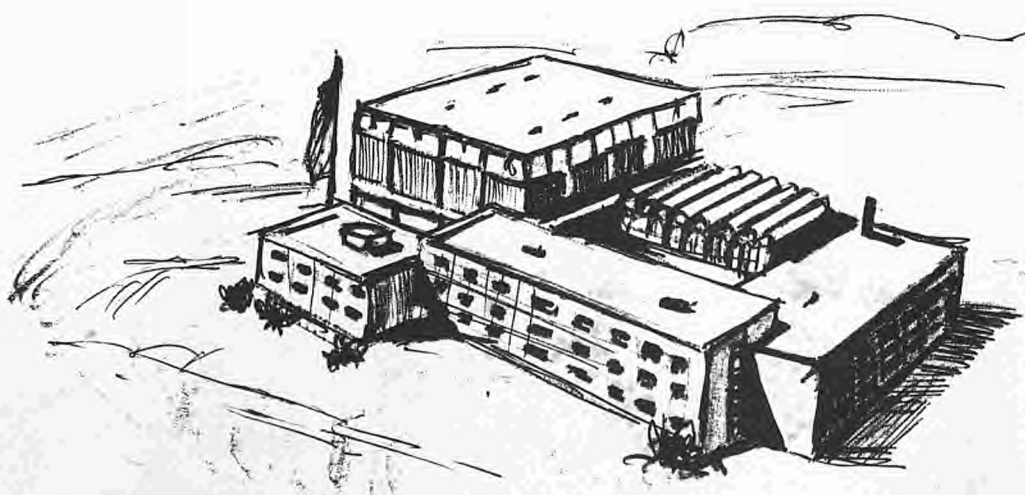

*We can't erase the sadness
Or edit out the tears;
We can't undo the wrong,
We can't relive the years.*

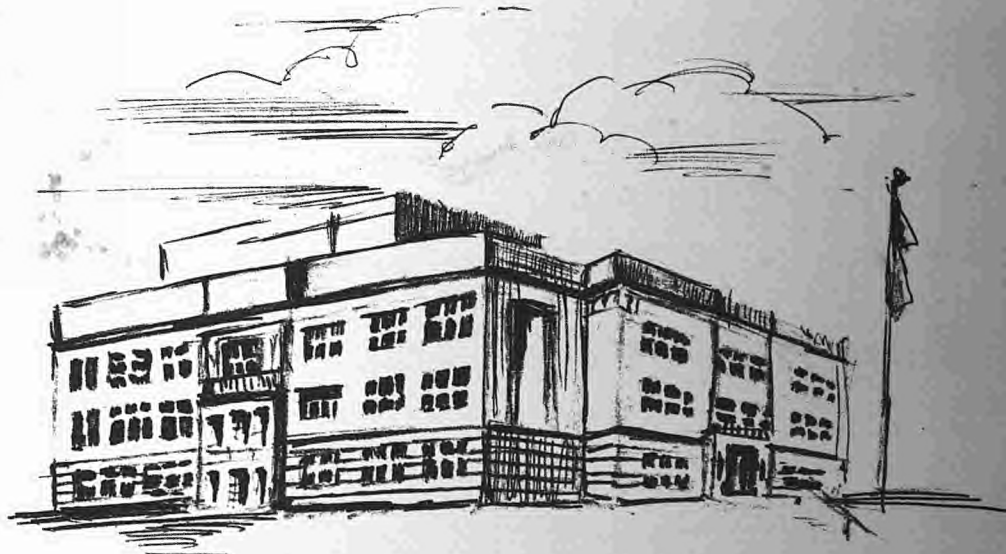

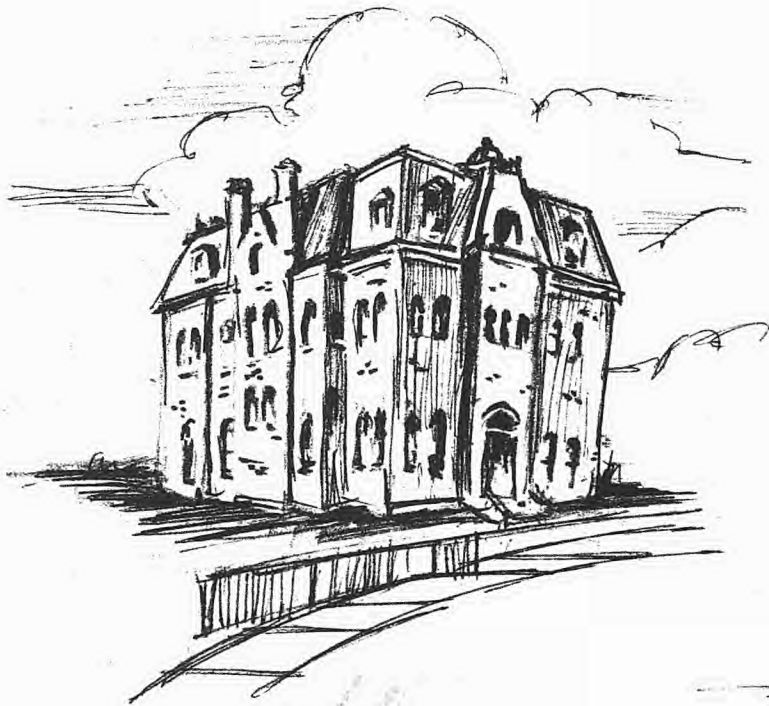

*But since memories keep building
Each day can be the start
Of making new and happy ones
To store within the heart."*
